

ONE DEAD, BIG STORM LOSS!

Coolidge For Strict Economy

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFERS
EXPENDITURES' ESTIMATE
FOR NEW FISCAL YEAR

Questions Whether It Is Wise, in View of Conditions, to Take Money from All of People for Compensation Measure

By H. K. REYNOLDS
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—President Coolidge today sent to congress the federal budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1924, providing for governmental expenditures aggregating $3,298,080,444, more than a quarter of a billion dollars less than the total to be expended during the present fiscal year. Accompanying the budget was a special message dealing in detail with the president's opposition to the soldiers' bonus and giving his reasons for the administration's firm stand for an immediate and sweeping reduction of federal taxes.

By continuing a policy of strict economy, the president declared, it will be possible to effect an annual reduction of more than 300,000,000 in federal taxes while "any program of new expenditure on a large scale would make tax reduction impossible for years to come."

The president said he was "not unmindful of the demand for adjusted compensation for soldiers of the world war," but he not only questioned if there was any "sound reason for such a measure," but that he believed the $600,000,000 surplus which had been piled up in the treasury during the past two years and the $395,000,000 surplus which is expected in the next fiscal year (1925) should be utilized as a basis for a sweeping reduction of taxes so that the taxpayers who are "stockholders in the business corporation of the United States" could share in the government's good fortune and be materially and immediately benefited.

"The government," Mr. Coolidge declared, "has no money to distribute to any class of its citizens that it does not take from the pockets and the people and the payment of a bonus to millions of our former soldiers could only be accomplished at a cost to the whole community, including the veterans themselves, far outweighing the benefits intended to be conferred."

"If I felt that a soldiers' bonus represented a great need and a proper obligation which should be fulfilled by this nation, I certainly would not make a recommendation which would be adverse thereto."

"The country is prosperous and remunerative employment is available for the able-bodied veterans as well as for other citizens. For the disabled veterans of the war and the dependents of those who fell, their country cannot do too much. It has already spent nearly two billions of dollars and

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10.—Expressed hopes of local Democrats that William Gibbs McAdoo would announce his entrance into the coming presidential campaign at a luncheon to be given in his honor here Wednesday were dashed with cold water today through the announcement that Mr. McAdoo's talk will be "informal" in character.

Secretary Wallace's Report Predicts Renewed Hope for Agriculture

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Despite the farmers' troubles arising from low prices of their farm products and the high prices for the services and articles they must buy, the general agricultural situation in the United States "gives renewed hope to millions of farmers who have struggled against distressing conditions," Secretary of Agriculture Wallace said today in his annual report to President Coolidge.

Wallace stated that this statement did not warrant the assumption, however, that the state of agriculture in all sections is now satisfactory, "viewed either from the standpoint of the farmer, or from the standpoint of national interest."

MODERNIZE NAVY
IS DENBY'S PLEA

Secretary's Program Told in Annual Report Sent to Congress Members

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—A sweeping program for the modernization of the American navy, including the elevation of guns on battleships to increase their firing range, was recommended today by Secretary of the Navy Denby in his annual report to congress.

An initial appropriation of $5,500,000 to elevate the big guns was made by congress about a year ago, but the work was never started because of a misunderstanding with Great Britain. Denby served notice today, however, that the navy was determined to go ahead with its modernization program "unless adverse action is taken by congress."

WOULD VOTE ON WAR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—A campaign to prevent the United States government declaring war upon any foreign nation without understanding with Great Britain, a vote of the people, was launched in congress today by Senator Edwin F. WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—President Coolidge was urged today by William H. Crocker, Republican national committeeman from California, to enter the California primary next May and contest with Senator Hiram Johnson for the state's convention delegates. "I wish my chances for heaven were as good as Coolidge's chances of carrying California," Crocker declared after a conference with the president at the White House.

President Coolidge, it was said, took the matter under advisement.

Three Inquiries Under Way to Determine Blame for 9 Dead, Scores Hurt

ERIE, Pa., Dec. 10.—Three separate official probes were under way here today as the result of the wreck of the Twentieth Century limited, crack flyer of the New York Central railroad, at a Forsythe, N. Y., grade crossing, early Sunday morning, which took a toll of nine lives and left scores of passengers injured some perhaps fatally.

The road's official investigation, to determine the actual cause of the wreck, reported to have resulted when Section 1 of the train, which had stopped after striking an automobile, was telescoped by another section, will be started this morning under the direction of John Rogers, superintendent of the Erie division.

A coroner's probe to determine why bodies of the dead were removed from New York state into Erie and to give a verdict on the deaths will get under way and will terminate at a coroner's inquest at the railroad offices tomorrow.

The interstate commerce commission is expected also to conduct an investigation.

The Forsythe crossing already this year has been responsible for fourteen deaths.

A check-up of dead and injured this morning showed these victims: The dead—William E. (Wild Bill) Donovan, Philadelphia, manager of the New Haven baseball club; Ralph Parnell (negro), New York City, Pullman porter; Mr. and Mrs. Richard, Sullivan, Springfield, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sweet, 505 Windsor boulevard. VOTE FOR
SEWERS

Keen Interest Manifested in Coming Bond Election by Electorate

Registration for the sewer bond election that is to be held on January 8, 1924, closed on Saturday night after a rush of work that kept every deputy registrar in the city working at top speed until a late hour and that demonstrated beyond any question the keen interest that the people of Glendale are taking in the proposal to construct a sewer system that will be adequate for the city's needs.

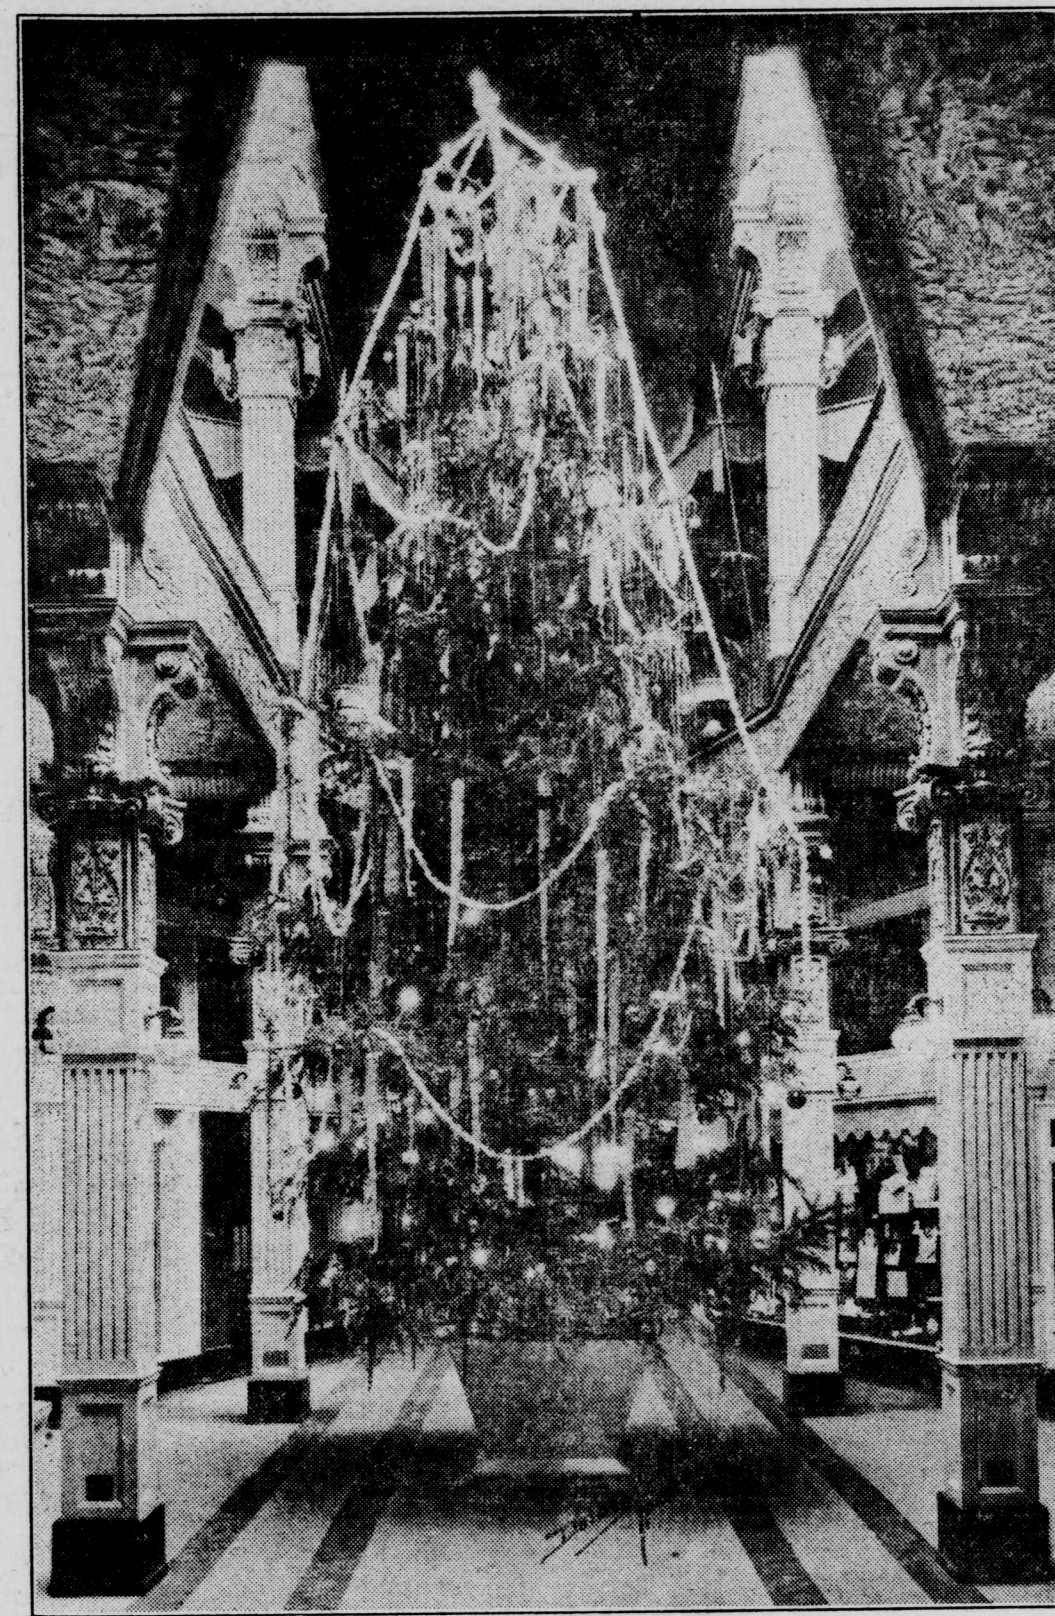

The number registered by the two deputies who maintained their offices at The Glendale Evening News totaled 1053, and judging from the expressions of opinion heard during the entire period of registration, the passage of the bond issue is assured. The attitude shown by practically every registrant who appeared at this office was that Glendale must and shall have a sewer system if it is to maintain its past and present rate of progress. The total registration just completed, it is claimed, will run well over 2000, which is in addition to those whose names are already on the lists of voters.

Voters from Everywhere
Figures compiled on the records of 533 voters registered by C. J. Weidman show that 43 states, the District of Columbia and 18 foreign countries contributed their quota to the residents of Glendale who are interested in the sewer bonds.

Iowa led the procession with 54, Illinois came second with 47, Ohio sent 37, Indiana and New York tied with 34, California 29, Pennsylvania 22, Missouri 21, Michigan 20, Kansas 19, Wisconsin 18, Kentucky 14, Colorado and Minnesota 13 each, Nebraska 12, Massachusetts 11, Texas 7, Utah 6, Arkansas, Connecticut and Montana 5 each, New Hampshire, New Jersey and Vermont 4 each, Maine, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island and Virginia 3 each, Florida, Georgia, Maryland, Mississippi, South Dakota, Tennessee 2 each, Arizona, Idaho, Louisiana, Nevada, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Washington, West Virginia and Washington, D. C., one each.

Foreign Countries
Foreign countries represented were: England 12, Canada 11, Germany 9, Ireland 5, Austria, Holland and Scotland 3 each, Japan, New Zealand, Sweden and Switzerland 2 each, Australia, Denmark, Italy, Norway and Wales one each.

D. B. Lyons, registrar of voters, was a visitor to Glendale on Saturday night and expressed his surprise at the manner in which the registration was conducted. (Continued on page 3)

Everybody Invited To See Huge Christmas

—From photo made especially for The Glendale Evening News by Dolberg.

Here's a picture of a great Christmas tree—the largest in Glendale—in Jensen's Palace Grand arcade. The shops there offer it to the children of Glendale; it is for all the youngsters. They are invited to see it. And so are the grown folk. The tree cost over $200, and it's a beauty. Those who are responsible for it deserve a lot of credit, for the tree is one of the big holiday attractions of Glendale.

Appointment List

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—President Coolidge today sent to the senate for confirmation the longest list of appointments to office ever transmitted at one time by a chief executive. Thousands of names were submitted for offices, ranging from the ambassadorship of Great Britain to postmasterships at obscure villages. The presidential messenger actually staggered under the burden of the bulky documents and had to be assisted into the senate chamber. Most of the appointments have been made during the nine months' recess of congress.

Debris Blocks Road; Brush Fire Menaces Eagle Rock; Telephones 'Dead'

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10.—Swept by high winds which continued to blow over Southern California today, a brush fire this afternoon threatened six square miles of wooded watershed country on Oak Ridge, near Newhall pass, and was being fought by a force of 300 men, according to a report from the office of Stuart J. Flintham, county forester supervisor. The Newhall fire today was a new outbreak of one that raged there yesterday.

N. C. Plumlee, an employee of the Pickford-Fairbanks studio, was killed in a fall from a scaffold during the storm.

WEATHER — Fair tonight and Tuesday. Colder tonight with light to heavy frost in morning. Strong northerly winds today, diminishing tonight.

The wind storm which has swept Glendale, in common with other cities in this section for the past forty-eight hours, has done material damage amounting to thousands of dollars, but no casualties have been reported.

The velocity of the wind has been so intense that most people have stayed indoors unless it was absolutely necessary to go out, consequently the flying signs, uprooted trees and falling roofs have struck pavements and sidewalks without taking toll of human life or causing injuries to pedestrians or motorists.

Many freakish pranks of the gale have been reported at the police headquarters. Complaints regarding obstructions of the roads have been referred to the street department and a large force of men is busily engaged in clearing the debris away.

Telephone and telegraph, as well as light wires, are down in many places and the service, although not at a standstill, is working under a great handicap. Extra crews have been pressed into service and the damage is being repaired as rapidly as possible.

Many serious losses to private property have been reported. Chief among these is the catastrophic befalling John Steven McGroarty, of Tujunga, whose beautiful mountain home, in which he had held the housewarming Saturday, burned to the ground early Sunday morning, on the first night of its occupancy. The fire was caused by a defective flue, and despite the heroic efforts of neighboring fire departments and loyal friends, the residence is ruined beyond repair, and the magnificent library, with its rare volumes, destroyed.

The entire city of Eagle Rock was threatened by a brush fire shortly after 12 o'clock last night. Residents turned out, and with the assistance of the men from the Edison camp near by, managed to beat out the fire before it had spread to the edge of the city.

Local telephone officials reported this morning that nearly a thousand lines and stations had been temporarily put out of service. (Continued on page 4)

SOCIAL EVENTS

Christmas Cheer

Due to the efforts of Mrs. Eugene W. Gilliland, chairman of ex-service men's and women's affairs, for the Tuesday Afternoon
club, club women of Glendale,
Eagle Rock, La Canada, Tujunga
and Burbank are uniting in planning Christmas cheer for ex-service men and women in the Barlow and Sawtelle hospitals.

Definite plans for Christmas
were made Saturday morning, when over twelve women from clubs in these cities met at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.
It is planned that every ex-service person at the Barlow hospital will be presented with a basket of fruit and a one dollar bill at Christmas. Besides a Christmas tree and entertainment program will be arranged for the hospital for Christmas eve.

These women are to meet
Thursday, December 20 at the Legion hall on East Broadway to make further plans. Mrs. Gilliland announces that donations for this work will be most acceptable and that any one wishing to make gifts should call her at Glendale 2003-J.

She states that the Literature
Section of the Tuesday Afternoon
club has given $5; the General
Richard Gridley Chapter, D. A.
R., $5, eight glasses of jelly and twelve books.

This committee of club women
are to meet the third Friday morning of each month from 10
till 12 o'clock at the clubhouse.

Mrs. C. T. Jones has been named secretary.

At the meeting Saturday, Mrs.
Nellie Snow Hoyer represented the Glendale War Mothers.

Club Will Sing
Hugo Kirchhofer, popular song
leader, is going to be royally received by Tuesday Afternoon club women tomorrow when he directs an hour of community singing before the regular club meeting and program in the afternoon. Mr.
Kirchhofer led the club singing at every meeting last year and the club keenly regretted their inability to secure him for this year's singing work.

However, he is coming out to Glendale tomorrow and the club members are planning to greet him with a well-filled auditorium.

An added significance to his presence is that the entertainment program of the afternoon will be given by the Orpheus Four, a quartet of the Orpheus club, of which Mr. Kirchhofer is leader.
The quartet includes Samuel Glass, tenor; Paul Adams, second tenor; V. A. Campbell, baritone, and H. M. Dudley, bass.

Mrs. Daniel Campbell, club president, will be in charge of the half hour's business meeting, and it is hoped that a report on the
"Oh-Ho!" show will be given by Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, chairman of ways and means.

Mrs. Homer Lockwood, chairman of hospitality, announces that a food sale will be held in the palm room.

Business Women

The Glendale Business and Professional Women's club is to be entertained tomorrow night at the home of Mrs. Josephine Woolsey at 229 South Central avenue.
Dr. Jesse A. Russell, club president, announces that a meeting of the executive board will be held at 7 o'clock and the general club meeting will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Evelyn Pierce, whose cleverness as a dramatic reader is known to Glendaleans, is to entertain. Dr. Russell is promising the business women a real diversion in the ten minute parliamentary drill she is planning.

Refreshments will be the final
event of the evening.

At Grossman Home
Mrs. I. Grossman of 405 West
California avenue was recently hostess to the Jewish Sisterhood of Glendale. Mrs. William Tyrrell was hostess, and the guest of honor and speaker was Mrs. Jules Kaufmann, well known club woman of Los Angeles.

Mrs. G. Phillips was in charge of the meeting, during which it was voted to contribute $3 to the Christmas celebration for the war
veterans at the Barlow hospital;
$2 to the fund helping a man living near the river whose home was washed out; and $5 for blankets for the Duarte hospital.
Current events were reviewed by Miss Eva Daniels.
Late in the afternoon an informal social time was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Attend Council
Representatives of all clubs in the Los Angeles District Federation, of which Mrs. Charles H.
Toll is president, are gathering today at the Women's Club in Hollywood for the regular meeting of the presidents' council.

The Tuesday Afternoon club of Glendale is represented by Mrs.
Daniel Campbell, president; Mrs.
A. H. Montgomery, first vice president; Mrs. M. E. Plasterer, treasurer; Mrs. W. E. Evans, federation secretary; and Mrs. A. A.
Barton, director. Miss Katherine
V. Sinks, club editor of The Glendale Evening News, accompanied the Glendale delegation.

The council began at 10 o'clock this morning and will close at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Meets Wednesday
Another interesting meeting of the American Citizenship and Legislation Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club was announced for 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the clubhouse.
Miss Ida D. Myers, curator, states that Mrs. S. C. Leppelman will give a biography of Benjamin Franklin and that Mrs.
Williams will give a biography of Alexander Hamilton.

The curator will give a short lesson on the Constitution and there will be the usual time devoted to the answering of questions.

Class Has Party

Glendale avenue school was the scene of a jolly affair Friday night when the A-8 class enjoyed their class party, with approximately seventy members present.

The cafeteria room was gaily decorated with strings of red and green, with pepper boughs
adding an effective touch. A prettily decorated Christmas tree occupied one corner, giving a holiday air to the festivities.

Guessing games were played.
J. B. Wilkins won first place in the peanut race, in which he had only two competitors, Donald Hamilton of the class and J. F.
McMaster of the faculty.

The party repaired to the auditorium for the reading of the class prophecy, which was cleverly given in dialogue by Dorothy McMahon and Cornelius Collins.
Corinne Fittinger played violin selections.

Refreshments of ice cream,
cake and punch were served. Special guests were the members of the faculty and between fifty and sixty of the parents.

William Chamberlain, president of the class, presided as master of ceremonies. Arrangements were made under the direction of the class teachers, Miss Caroline Ainsworth and Miss Avis White.

This class will complete the eighth grade course in February.

Japanese Dinner

Rev. Julius Soper of 1305 North
Maryland avenue was host at a dinner during the Thanksgiving holidays at the Harriet Mae tea room. Covers were laid for Miss Matilda Spencer, who recently returned from Yokohama, Japan;

Mrs. Flo B. Davison and children, Margaret, Dorothy and Robert of South Pasadena; Rev. and Mrs. Julius Soper and daughter,
Miss Helen Soper.

The host speaks of this party
as a "Japanese dinner" and it is of interest to note that each one present has spent some portion of their lives in Japan, three of them, a great many years. Mrs.
Davison is the widow of a nephew
of the Sopers, George Davison, who died in the Orient where he was engaged in foreign missionary work.

Juvenile Party

"Kid" costumes are to be the stylish dress for the Christmas luncheon party of the Maids and Young Matrons section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, on Thursday, at the home of the curator,
Mrs. C. G. Putnam, 424 North
Glendale avenue.

It will be the annual Christmas
affair of the section, and, in addition to bringing a covered dish for

FINAL PHASE OF CAMPAIGN OPENS

Ballot Box Placed In Bank Until Sales Drive Is Brought to End

By J. A. MALCOLM
Salesmanship Club Manager

Today starts the final lap of the big salesmanship campaign now being conducted by The Glendale Evening News and this morning the ballot box was taken to the Federal Commercial and Savings bank, corner of Brand boulevard and Wilson avenue, where the judges locked and sealed it and where the ballot box will remain until the close of the campaign.

The fact that the campaign will be brought to a close under a sealed ballot box proves conclusively that the campaign will be absolutely on the square and that every one will stand on the same footing. No one will know how any of the other club members stand and even the campaign managers will have any inkling whatsoever as to how many credits any of the club members have to their account, only the club members themselves will know how many credits they have.

The big campaign will close one week from Thursday, December 20, and the hour will be 8 p. m. and this means eight o'clock and not a minute after that time, and those who fail to have their subscriptions and credits in the ballot box at that time will have only themselves to blame.

End Approaching

The end is coming closer and closer. Hustle is the key that will unlock the treasure chest so filled with magnificent prizes, for the handsomest and most valuable ever offered by any newspaper in Glendale or surrounding territory, in recognition of enterprise and energy.

The campaign manager has had charge of many campaigns but never one that was so close and so exciting as this one. The club members could win one of the grand prizes if they would put forth a final effort and make a big spurt that would bring them the necessary subscriptions to put them over the top at the last moment.

Without a doubt there are going to be some surprises in this campaign and many of the club members will be heard to say "Oh, if I only knew how close I was I would have worked harder." However, right now is the time to work, for a little effort right now is worth to you more than all the regrets in the world after the campaign is closed.

The winners will be determined by their credits that they may have in reserve added to the number of ballots due from the subscriptions that may be found in the sealed ballot box at the end of the campaign. The one having the largest number of credits will receive the $2500 building lot located in Sparr Heights and the second highest will receive the $1500 building lot located in Oakmont heights. The third will receive the Nash touring car and the fourth highest the $1000 touring car. The fifth and sixth will each receive one of the Gulbransen pianos, and the seventh and eighth will each receive one of the furniture sets, ninth and tenth will each receive one of the phonographs, eleventh and twelfth will each receive one of the silverware and the 15th and 16th will each receive the watch.

Those who do not win one of the prizes and who have turned in at least two cash subscriptions each week will receive 25 per cent on all new subscriptions and 15 per cent on all old subscriptions.

THEATRES

THE GLENDAL E
"Long Live the King." Jackie Coogan's first Metro picture, now showing at the Glendale theatre, epitomizes among its high qualities the advancement of the photoplay art. Novel engineering feats, unusual set construction, unique costumes and many other superior elements that support the present-day star are found there.

The story itself is one of the finest, coming from the gifted pen of Mary Roberts Rinehart, adapted by C. Gardner Sullivan and directed by Victor Schertzinger, under the personal supervision of Jack Coogan, Sr. Costing over $600,000 to produce, the picture attains to the monumental.

In the interior sets alone, $400,000 was expended, chiefly on the replica of the great castle of Neuschwanstein, in Bulgaria. This set occupies 240,000 square feet of ground and is built up to a height of 70 feet, with battlements higher still.

Pint of Blood is Sought by Doctor To Save Sufferer

A pint of blood is needed by one of the leading Glendale physicians immediately for injection into the veins of one of his patients, who is in a very precarious condition from typhoid fever.

The blood must be drawn from the veins of a healthy man who has recently recovered from typhoid fever, and it can be secured at once, the physician is confident that he can save his patient's life.

Anyone who can fulfill these conditions is asked to communicate with The Glendale Evening News, who will place him in touch with the doctor in charge of the case.

It is desired, if at all possible, to perform the transfusion of blood early tomorrow, Tuesday, morning, as the victim's life is hanging in the balance at this moment.

J. Ripley Jackson Is Speaker at Luncheon

That the Glendale postoffice is a busy place was indicated by figures given by Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson in an address at the luncheon of the Glendale Merchants' association at the Egyptian Village today noon. Mr. Jackson was speaking in defense of the recent postoffice department ruling which discontinued the practice of delivering mail by what was known as the directory system. Mail addressed to Glendale, unless it carries some specific address, will no longer be delivered, but returned to the sender.

There are 76,000 letters and 7,000 packages, exclusive of first-class mail, which pass through the local post-office every day, Mr. Jackson said. The large volume of business handled at this office, he pointed out, makes it impossible to give time to looking up hundreds of addresses and forwarding mail.

George Hallett, assistant postmaster, was also a speaker in behalf of the new ruling, which went into effect December 1. Both speakers urged the co-operation of merchants and other residents of Glendale in properly addressing mail in order to facilitate the work of the postoffice and aid it in giving better service to the entire city.

The meeting was devoted entirely to the discussion of the new system of mail delivery.

Owen C. Emery, president of the association, presided.

Birthday Surprise For D. Ripley Jackson

One of the most prominent social events of the week was the surprise party given D. Ripley Jackson Saturday night by Mrs. Jackson at their home, 1800 South Brand boulevard, in the celebration of his birthday anniversary.

During the evening, Mr. Jackson was presented with a mahogany smoking set from the members of the Omar Shrine No. 9, White Shrine of Jerusalem. Mrs. Jackson presented him with an overstuffed chair, and his daughter gave him a mahogany end table.

The evening was devoted to playing "Coaty," at which Mrs. Warren Roberts and Porter Custer were awarded the prizes.

The guests present included officers of Omar Shrine, relatives and close friends of Mr. Jackson's. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Leland, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Custer, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Emerick, Mr. and Mrs. William McMullen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bourne, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jenson, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Evans, Col. and Mrs. D. Drunk Charge Filed Against Man, Woman

Ben Johnson, 454 North Bonnie Brae street, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Sarah Blore of the same address, were arrested yesterday afternoon on Glendale avenue charged with being drunk. They were sitting in a car at the side of the road when they were arrested. They had with them Mrs. Blore's 7-year-old son. A pint bottle, partly full of whisky, was found in Johnson's pocket, police say. Mrs. Blore was later allowed to return to her home with her son. Johnson is still held at headquarters.

PLEDGES GREAT TAX REDUCTION

Coolidge Tells Why He Is Not in Favor of U. S. Soldiers' Bonus

now is spending nearly half a billion dollars yearly in their behalf. That obligation it must and will continue to fulfill in full measure, and it is one of the most important duties and privileges of the executive to minister to the wants and needs of these wards and creditors of the nation. But the fit and abled-bodied veterans are offered the opportunities open to every other citizen.

Can Lighten Taxes
"We have not reached a point in our financial program where we can lighten the tax burden of the people, which is an added reason for taking a firm stand against any and all programs of spending that would tend to absorb the expected margin between receipts and expenditures."

In view of President Coolidge's firm opposition to the bonus, there is no doubt that he will veto the adjusted compensation bill which congress is expected to pass this winter. The president's stand on the bonus and the reduction of taxes is wholly in accord with that of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

The government's expenditures for 1925 were estimated by the president in his budget message at $2,295,080,444, which is $25,557,644 less than the estimated expenditures for the current fiscal year. The receipts for the coming fiscal year were placed at $3,693,762,978, so that the surplus which the president expects to have in the treasury on June 30, 1925, is $395,681,535, compared with surpluses of $329,639,624 in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, and $309,657,460 in the year ending June 30, 1923.

Taxpayers Stockholders
The president pointed out that the surplus estimated for the coming year would be possible only with continued economy.

"I have in mind," he said, "that the taxpayers are the stockholders of the business corporation of the United States and that if this business is showing a surplus of receipts the taxpayers should share therein in a material way that will be of immediate benefit."

"Having in mind that the budget and accounting act of 1921 contemplates that the chief executive, under the fortunate situation in which we now find ourselves, should make such recommendations as in his opinion the public interests require, I recommend a revision of the laws along the lines which reduce income taxes by taxing earned incomes more lightly than income from business or from investments; by reducing the percentages of the normal tax, and by reducing the surtax rates, with commencement of their application at $10,000, instead of $6,000."

"I also recommend the repeal of the tax on telegrams, telephones and leased wires, and of the tax on admissions, and revision of the miscellaneous taxes which are a source of inconvenience to the taxpayers, and difficult to collect."

Would Reduce Taxes
"On the other hand, amendments which would cause some increase of revenue should also be made to existing income tax laws relative to deductions of capital losses, deductions from gross income for interest paid, and non-business losses sustained, which income from tax-exempt securities is involved; and the manner of taxing community incomes. These changes would reduce taxes by more than $300,000,000, which is safely within the probable surplus."

The president said he knew of "nothing which will give the people of this nation greater assurance that we are unalterably committed to a campaign of economy in public expenditures than a reduction of our present taxation."

He also expressed the opinion that the reduction of federal expenditures and taxation would lead to similar enrichment in the financial activities of the states and municipalities, which, according to an estimate of the late President Harding, consumed 60 per cent of all the taxes collected in the United States.

The appropriations for prohibition enforcement contained in the 1925 budget are more than $1,600,000 more than for the current fiscal year.

The president said that in his forthcoming message to congress on the "state of the union," he would suggest a material increase in the personnel and equipment of the United States coast guard to combat rum running.

He explained that he made mention of this in view of the fact that he planned to ask at a later date for the appropriation of $20,000,000 to build up the coast guard, in addition to an appropriation of $6,000,000 to pay for its operation during the coming fiscal year.

INJURED IN CRASH

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10.—Charles Bradley and Miss Leonore Casanova were treated at the receiving hospital today for injuries received when the automobile in which they were riding struck an intersection button at Highland avenue and Yucca streets in Hollywood, skidded, overturned and collided with a steam roller parked at the roadside.

ice by falling trees and telephone poles. It will require the rest of the day to restore the service to normal.

Much Minor Damage
Service on the Pacific Electric between Los Angeles and Glendale was normal, although the company experienced great difficulty in keeping some of the other lines open.

The wind was general throughout the city, all sections reporting doors loosened, fences down or falling, plants and flowers ruined and many trees uprooted. South of Colorado street on Adams two large fir trees, one in front of the W. W. McElroy home, bowed to the wind and finally fell, tearing up curbs and sidewalks as their aged roots gave way. These tall trees stretched almost across the street, leaving only room enough for cars to pass in single line.

The sign on the property at the corner of Broadway and Glendale avenue where a new hotel is to be erected was blown down Sunday, and it was reported that two men had been injured, but this could not be confirmed. A house in the 400 block on Pioneer drive was badly wrecked when the wind lifted the roof from its anchorage. The amount of the damage was not reported.

The roof of the "round house" occupied by the street department on Glendale avenue was blown off this morning at 5 o'clock.

Windows Smashed
Many plate-glass windows were blown in and others had to be hurriedly braced in order to save them. A report to the police early this morning stated one of the big windows in Robinson Brothers' storehouse had given way and the other was threatened with the police hurrying to the scene. Webb's Dry Goods store was also threatened as the wind howled as it came from the Do. cafe on East Broadway, the S. H. Kress store, the Army and Navy store and various others. The heaviest damage sustained by breaking windows was by the Glendale Phonograph company, 123 South Brand. During the crash a number of musical instruments were broken as well as stock of phonograph records which had been on display.

Sign Him, Quick
Officer R. L. McLean had the strangest experience reported. He was standing in front of the new Security Trust & Savings bank building when the wind loosened the huge lamp globe, eighteen inches in diameter. The globe was blown across the street directly into Officer McLean's hands, and he caught it without damage to either himself or the globe. Manager Donlin of the Glendale White Sox, please note.

A falling tree at 203 East Acadia crashed on a Ford, which was unoccupied at the time. The car, a roadster, belonging to William B. Stonehill, was seriously damaged.

An extra large force of firemen have been kept on duty in case of emergency, but only two calls have been answered, and these have been under control before spreading. The first alarm was turned in at 8:39 o'clock Saturday night and called Engine Company No. 1 to the home of George Melvin at 432 Ivy street. The blaze resulted from a defective flue, and despite the heavy wind, it was confined to the one house.

A pile of rubbish on fire at the corner of Brand and Doran was the cause of the second alarm at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. This was extinguished before it had done any damage.

Trees in front of the Charles Karne home at 509 Patterson avenue were blown down, and early today a huge tree in the 400 block on West Broadway was uprooted and hurled across the sidewalk.

How's This One?

Max Green, who recently finished a building at 420 East Broadway for a mortgage and finance company, is shaking hands with himself today Saturday morning. A plate-glass window costing $300 was placed in position in the front of the new building, and he immediately went and had it insured. Twenty-four hours later the wind took it out, but the loss is covered by insurance the next day.

Fences, along with trees, have been common sufferers. The new fence enclosing the ball park on San Fernando road is down in many places. Private fences and hedges have been uprooted and ruined. Awnings and signs have in many instances been blown three blocks away from their proper place.

Worst Storm in Years, Says Weather Bureau Head

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10.—A wind storm that lashed Los Angeles and Southern California since Friday night, at times gaining proportions of a gale, had almost subsided today after doing thousands of dollars' worth of damage.

The damage consisted mostly of blowing down trees and telegraph poles, crippling telephone and telegraph service, and the stranding of many motorists by debris that was blown on nearly every highway leading into Los Angeles. Several automobiles which tried to push through the storm are reported by the automobile club to have been wrecked.

N. C. Plumlee, 23, an employee of the Pickford-Fairbanks studio, was killed during the storm when he fell from a scaffolding on the studio "lot." Seven persons were reported to have been injured when the

The Truth About Sewer Bond Issue

This is the fourth of a series of articles discussing the agreement between Glendale and Los Angeles relative to the disposal of sewage from Glendale through the sewers of Los Angeles. Section 7 of this agreement follows:

"VII. In consideration of the foregoing covenants and agreements on the part of the said party of the first part the said party of the second part hereby agrees to submit to the voters of the said city of Glendale, within a period of ninety days from the date and after the execution of this agreement, a proposed bond issue to carry out the terms and conditions of this agreement, and to also submit to the voters at the same time a proposition to approve this agreement; and said party of the second part further agrees that in the event such bond issue and this agreement are approved by a two-thirds vote of the electors of said city of Glendale, said party of the second part will proceed to procure said rights of way and construct said sewer as herein provided for.

"Said sewer shall be constructed in accordance with designs, plans and specifications to be adopted by the board of public works of the city of Los Angeles, and said construction shall be under the supervision and to the satisfaction of the board of public works of the city of Los Angeles."

Section 7 obligates the city of Glendale to submit a proposed bond issue to the voters of Glendale to carry out the terms of this agreement. At the same time the agreement itself is to be submitted for ratification or rejection.

The proposition is squarely up to you, Mr. and Mrs. Voter. You are to decide whether this agreement is to be ratified or not. You are to decide whether these bonds pass or fail. You are to decide whether Glendale shall go forward or backward. It is up to you to vote for these bonds and thus extend an invitation to prospective residents to factories, to hotels, to industries, that they locate in "THE FASTEST GROWING CITY IN AMERICA."

Your civic pride, the health of your children, your business future, demand that you vote for these bonds.

REMEMBER—

If you do not vote, you are against the bonds.

there, one of the organizers of the plan.

So large is the tree that it was brought to Glendale on a special truck. Its fine boughs spread clear across the arcade. Kiddies could hide in its branches and the deep shade of its cool green heart might well give shelter to Santa Claus himself.

A fragrance of spicy pine needles rises from the big Christmas tree, permeating every nook and cranny of the beautiful arcade and its ten select shops. One seeking yuletide spirit would not find it more clearly exemplified in a day's search than here in this modern mart of trade, where every gift in every shop wears a holiday attire.

Plan Entertainment
It is the plan of the shopkeepers in Jensen's Palace Grand arcade to have a special Christmas entertainment on some night just before the sacred and historic eve, Mr. Miller states, when the kiddies will gather round this beautiful, glittering tree with its carols and in other ways join in a fitting celebration of the occasion.

Meanwhile, each night the big tree will be lit with its twinkling electric candles and in addition will be illuminated by a bank of flood-lights from above, causing it to stand out as a blazing symbol of the season, compelling the attention of adults as well as children.

The ten shops of the arcade co-operating to offer kiddies and grownups of Glendale this Christmas treat are:

Sun Drug store.
Lewis Jewelry company.
Marion Elizabeth Millinery store.
Sherrod's Specialty shop.
Palace Grand florist.
Melba-Jeanne shoppe.
Albert Sheetz Mission candies.
Art-Gift and Needlework shop.
Palace Grand Beauty shoppe.
Jensen's Egyptian Village.

This is the first time such a large tree has been displayed in Glendale under the charge of a group of business places and the idea is a most creditable one. Everybody is invited to see it—night or day—and it is certain the tree will be admired by many thousands. The shops co-operating in the Christmas tree are deserving of a great deal of praise for their enterprise.

residence of John L. Evans, a Los Angeles fireman, was torn from its foundation and rolled down a hill. Those injured were Evans, his wife and five children.

A menacing brush fire that swept between Eagle Rock and Pasadena was extinguished today by 300 men who battled the fire. Eight small children and two attendants in the Presbyterian orphan's home in the burned over area were saved by the fire fighters.

The storm was declared today by Colonel H. B. Hersey to have been of its kind coldest and worst of its kind known to the weather bureau in Southern California. It was the coldest yet, still blowing stiffly today but was expected to subside entirely before night.

In Los Angeles the storm broke many plate glass windows and blew down sign boards. Several persons were reported to have been cut by flying glass and others narrowly escaped injury when branches of trees were blown down. At Santa Monica it was stated that the highest tide in years undermined several cabins on the ocean front near Topanga canyon.

The fire department answered over seventy-five alarms yesterday in twelve hours while the storm was at its height. Most of the fires were caused by defective heating means which had been suddenly called into service.

Sailing schedules of ships at Los Angeles harbor was practically done away with. Many vessels in the harbor were forced to take to the outer harbor to anchor to prevent being blown against other ships. Those that did remain in the harbor were forced to put down heavier anchors.

At Mount Wilson, it was reported, the instrument gauging the velocity of the wind went out of commission when the gale reached sixty miles an hour.

Three men in a small boat were reported to have been swept two miles out to sea, and without oars, faced almost certain death. A motor boat was sent to their rescue and they were saved.

TO CURB LANDIS' IMPERIAL POWER

Magnates Hope to Throw Off Hood of Figurehead at Baseball Meet

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service
CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—Having arrived at the conclusion that the imperial arm of Judge Landis has reached sufficient length and individuality, it is said that Presidents Johnson and Heydler of the American and National leagues, respectively, will stand heel in an attempt to throw off the hood of the figurehead at the baseball meetings here next week.

The judge, it is said, wishes to arrogate unto himself the privilege of riding hard over the activities of the major league umpires.

It is our information that on this point the judge has not the chance of a poor relation.

The judge may persuade the magnates, both minor and major, that a new draft agreement is not only justifiable, but expedient, he may prevail upon deaf ears to hear a plea for a more equitable distribution of world's-series expenses, he may jam through any and all of whatever remaining for his minor league. But on the question of umpire control Messrs. Johnson and Heydler will be so much granite.

Relic of Past
This is one of their few excuses of official existence and as such is a most valued relic of an affluent past, one might just as reasonably ask the men for their front teeth.

A further consideration is that a fight for recognition after this point might lead to greater opportunities for Johnson and Heydler in all details. The business whereby the judge proceeds with his world's series arrangements while the two presidents cooled their heels elsewhere, still rankles.

The issue, if any, is to be settled with dignified moderation. It is said that the judge has established his right to that title, for he made that point like a fuzzy burny. He also uncracked some good puns when Elliott was taken out. West was put in at tackle, where he showed up well, even though it was not his regular position.

Baseball men in general, however, are as one in opposing any move that would invest Landis more power than he already wields. They think he has too much already, but a gentlemen's agreement, signed in good faith by all concerned, has them stopped. The agreement bounds them to accept the rulings of the commission without comment, adverse or otherwise. But it does not bind them to accept all of his ideas and reforms with blind faith, and with the matter of regulating and appointing the umpires, the magnates are said to stand almost in a body behind the two presidents.

GLLENDALE K. C.'S SUNDAY VICTORS
Win Game From Zelzah
Nine by Score of 11-4; Few Errors Made

The Glendale K. C.'s and Zelzah staged the only baseball game played in the San Fernando league yesterday, and the locals routed the visitors by an 11-4 score. The high wind prevailing in the San Fernando road yard made perfect fielding an impossibility, and eight errors were chalked up during the afternoon.

A fair-sized crowd turned out to witness the game, and the Casey put over enough runs in the first inning to win. They registered five times in this frame, adding four more in the seventh, putting the game on ice.

The hitting of Manush and the D. Roll brothers featured the game. D. Roll connected for a triple and a double.

Glendale Loses Football Title to Long Beach In Thrilling Coliseum Game

By NEAL E. SOOY
Of The Evening News Staff.

It was just six minutes. Six minutes of stage fright. But that six minutes spelled defeat for the Glendale high-heavyweight football team. And, incidentally, lost them the Southern California championship.

It was Saturday afternoon in the huge coliseum at Exposition park. Two teams, Glendale and Long Beach, were battling there for the southern title. All through the football season, Long Beach had been hailed as a super team. Their fullback, Drury, was proclaimed future All-American timber. With this facing them, and a weight difference of 25 pounds, the Dynamiters entered the game with a good deal of wholesome respect for the Jackrabbits. And this same respect provoked their undoing. For in the first six minutes of play, Long Beach scored two touchdowns. After that, the game was a matter of time.

Long Beach scored a touchdown in the first part of the last frame, but failed to convert. Long Beach kicked. Glendale punted and the ball rolled out on the 1 yard line. Drury tried to imitate Elliott and run from behind his line, but he was stopped and two more points were added to the local score. Long Beach punted and got a safety when Elliott was tackled behind his own line. Glendale punted. Long Beach punted. Horii went 20 on a pass. Lavelle went 15. Long Beach intercepted one of the passes and practically ended the game. Final score: 8-15.

Beach Fleaweights Beat Glendale, 25-0
Glendale suffered a double defeat last Saturday, when the Long Beach flyweights walked over the Glendale 110-pounders, 25-0. At no stage of the game was the result in doubt, as the Beach Bunnies had it clinched all the time. Their left half, named Elliott, was their star player, making three or four markers, and running circles around the local pinweights. Lowe, Harris and Ward all showed up well for the locals.

Glendale kicked off and Elliott ran sixty yards for a score on the third play of the game. Nelson failed to convert. Long Beach kicked and Glendale fumbled. A few plays took up to the line, where Elliott bucked it on the one-yard line. Lowe tackled him so hard that he fumbled, but recovered the ball under the noses of two Red and Black players who stood around gazing at the scenery. On the next play he went over. The point was not added. Long Beach kicked and Maloney blocked a punt and fell on the ball across the line. Nelson converted. The last quarter proved slow and ended with the Bunnies in possession of the ball on the Glendale ten-yard line. Final score, 25-0.

Long Beach kicked off. Elliott punted hurriedly and the Jackrabbits got the ball on the 35 yard line. A rapid series of line bucks took the ball up to the goal, where Hill crossed. Evans failed to convert. Long Beach kicked off. Elliott's attempted punt was blocked and Long Beach got the ball. A few more line smashes terminated in Hill again crossing the line. Evans converted. Long Beach kicked. Glendale punted. Long Beach started another march but the locals found that the mighty Drury was just as easy to tackle as anyone so that Long Beach was forced to punt. Glendale punted. Score: 0-13.

Long Beach punted. Breezy went 20 yards. A fumble lost the ball and Long Beach was forced to punt. Walton went 30 yards. Bud made 15. Breezy made 10. It looked like a score, but a pass was intercepted on the 10 yard line. Long Beach punted. A place-kick failed. Long Beach punted and the ball rolled out on the Glendale 2 yard line. Elliott dropped back for a punt, but instead raced for 75 yards from behind his own goal. Another place kick failed. Score: 0-13.

Long Beach kicked. A few exchanges of punts kept the ball in midfield until Walton started the

COAST ATHLETES COMPETE AT OXY

Mid-Winter Relay Carnival Brings Out Cream of College Sprinters

Coach Pipal's long hoped for mid-winter relay carnival was a reality last Saturday when four hundred and fifty athletes took part in the greatest track meet ever held on the Pacific coast.

The meet was positively a success, said Pipal, after the long day was over. The purpose was accomplished, and the day, though not exactly made to order, was as good as can be expected in the winter.

The results were what was expected, with U. S. C. walking off with the collegiate honors and Occidental second. In the prep class Coach Tommy Davis' warriors from Lincoln snatched high honors. No definite points were awarded for the places due to the large variety of events and classes. However U. S. C. and Lincoln topped the most places in their respective groups.

The annual Southern Conference cross-country race was held in conjunction with the Oxy first annual mid-winter relay carnival, Pomona college walking away with the first five places. Pomona also won the freshmen three-mile cross-country event.

Oxy Wins Medley Race
The feature race of the day was the college open medley relay, which was won by Occidental after Nick Carter set out seven yards behind Percy Niersbach of U. S. C. in the fourth lap and pulled through with a couple of yards to spare, burning the cinder path as he shot along.

The 75-yard dash open went to Keith Lloyd of U. S. C. who covered the distance in the good time of 7 4-5 seconds, remarkable for early season racing. Elliott of Huntington Beach also made the distance in 7 4-5, winning the 75-yard dash high school open class.

Eddie Pollack, star sprinter of Pasadena, did not place, having injured a muscle in practice.

Nichols of Huntington Beach came through with another victory in the prep high hurdles. He showed all the form of last season when he ventured east and won the national high hurdles championship. Charles Davis of L. A. A. C. and formerly of Pomona college, took the open high hurdles with Nichols right at his heels.

In the open college pole vault event Goodenough of Oxy and Bickmore and Emmons of U. S. C. showed early season class by all clearing twelve feet. Even the frosh pole vault was interesting for Fontaine of Oxy and Sander of U. S. C. tied for first at 11 feet 6 inches.

Hank Coggeshall of Poly High and National prep champion high jumper came to the front and won both the open high jump and open junior broad high jump. Hollywood High's medley relay team won the prep open event. In the football events, Graff of Santa Maria won the forward passing contest, and Jaffray of Hollywood the punting and drop kicking contest.

GIVES STATEMENT IN BARRIER CASE

Attorney for Woman Writes of Facts in Reference to Man's Arrest

The Glendale Evening News is in receipt of the following self-explanatory communication from Charles Robert McCarty of Glendale, in answer to certain published statements made by Thomas Walter Barrier, divorced husband of Mrs. Madeline Barrier. The ex-husband was recently arrested here and the story he told to the police was given publicity. The communication from Attorney McCarty gives news facts relative to the case and is published in full as follows:

Editor The Evening News:—In your issue of December 6 you published an article concerning the arrest of Thomas Walter Barrier and his confinement in the Glendale city jail. In this article you published certain representations and statements that were purported to have been made by Thomas Walter Barrier, and in particular quoted this Mr. Barrier as having stated that his brother, George Barrier, had been living at his wife's place of residence after having been ordered to keep away from Thomas Barrier's wife. Inasmuch as I believe that the statements of Thomas Walter Barrier have cast an unfair reflection upon both Mrs. Madeline Barrier and George Barrier, I believe that the true facts of the situation should be stated to you and that you should publish the same in your paper. It must be borne in mind that Mrs. Barrier is a resident of your city and has custody of her 9 year old son, and is separated and divorced from her husband, and is certainly in need of all the shelter and support that we can give her. I am therefore writing you this letter, both as a citizen of Glendale and therefore in a spirit of fair play, and also as the attorney for Mrs. Barrier.

Files Divorce Suit
For quite some time prior to June 19, 1923, Mr. and Mrs. Barrier were residing with George Barrier on South Main street in Los Angeles. On the 19th day of June, 1923, Thomas Walter Barrier filed suit in the Superior Court of Los Angeles County (being action No. D-22446 of said court) against Mrs. Madeline Barrier, for divorce, and named his brother, George Barrier, as co-respondent, charging adultery. On the same day he commenced an action (No. 124104) against George Barrier for damages for alienation of affections.

At that time Thomas Walter Barrier had engaged as his counsel, Will H. Light, Jr. and Mrs. Barrier had submitted a P. Michael Narian, in place of Mr. Light. I was employed by both Mrs. Barrier and George Barrier. I interposed a demurrer to the complaint for damages for alienation of affections, and this demurrer was sustained by the court. I also interposed a demurrer on behalf of both George Barrier and Madeline Barrier, to the divorce complaint. This demurrer was also sustained. Madeline Barrier filed a cross-complaint in the divorce action, alleging extreme cruelty, the principal grounds being the false charges of commission of adultery alleged in the complaint by Thomas Walter Barrier. At the time of the commencement of the actions, Thomas Walter Barrier hid the child of himself and Madeline Barrier, viz: Walter Adis Barrier. The court made an order pending the trial, and a hearing, granting the custody of the child to Mrs. Barrier, and ordered the plaintiff to pay for the support of the child, and also certain sums on account of his wife's attorney fees and court costs. The plaintiff, Thomas Walter Barrier, did not comply with any of these orders, but to the contrary sold the furniture and furnishings of the home of himself and wife, to an Italian, and then absconded and left the state.

Sale is Held Void
This sale was void for the reason that before furniture or household effects of a home could be sold, the wife's written consent must be obtained, and we therefore secured from the Superior Court on July 31, after a hearing, an order granting the temporary use of all of said property to Mrs. Barrier. Previous to that time the court had issued an order to show cause and restraining order requiring Thomas Walter Barrier to appear before the court to show cause, if any he had, why said order granting said community property to Mrs. Barrier, should not be made. This order we served upon Mr. Barrier, but he attempted to secure possession of the child and when prevented from doing so, he absconded and left the state. Upon his failure to appear in response to said order, the court issued a bench warrant for his arrest. I enclose herewith, for your examination, my office copy of the order for assignment to Mrs. Barrier of the furniture, so that you may be better advised.

Thomas Walter Barrier neglected to file any amended complaint in the suit for damages for alienation of affections, or in the divorce action and also neglected to file any answer to the cross-complaint, although represented by counsel. The suit for damages for alienation of affections was therefore dismissed by the court, and the divorce action came on for trial on August 17 in department 3. On the trial the court found that all of the charges made by Thomas Walter Barrier, of adultery or any wrongful conduct whatsoever, on the part of Madeline Barrier or the co-respondent George Barrier, were false and untrue, and furthermore were not made in good faith, and that the plaintiff Thomas Walter Barrier was in contempt of court, had not complied with any of the orders

Invite Film Scribes To Attend Lectures

A cordial invitation is extended to all Glendaleans, interested in scenario writing or better motion picture films, to attend the regular weekly meetings of the Los Angeles Scenario Club, held every Thursday night at the Triangle Club, 631 South Spring street, at 7:30 o'clock. Inasmuch as the membership is limited, only a few more new members may be admitted, however, this membership drive will last for three or four weeks, it is announced.

Robert W. Major, well known lecturer, writer, and dramatic critic, is the capable lecturer and instructor of the club. His lectures are particularly helpful to the scenario writer.

Singers Are Invited to Attend Rehearsal

J. Arthur Myers, director of the Choral society, is anxious to have as many singers as possible at the rehearsal that will be held in the Glendale Union High school at 7:30 o'clock tonight, when plans will be laid for the Christmas music that is to be rendered at the Community Christmas celebration. Several selections from the "Messiah" will be used for the holiday program.

Use of negroes as slaves by the Arabs is said to have given the first hint of slavery to Europeans.

of the court, and was guilty of the charges of extreme cruelty specified by Madeline Barrier in her cross-complaint. The court accordingly granted a decree of divorce to Madeline Barrier upon the cross-complaint giving her the exclusive custody of the child, ordered the plaintiff to pay $30 per month for the support of said child and $150 for Mrs. Barrier's attorney's fees, and in particular restrained Thomas Walter Barrier from annoying or molesting Madeline Barrier in any manner. The court completely exonerated George Barrier. For your information, a certified copy of the findings of the court and also of the interlocutory decree of divorce, is now in the hands of Judge Lowe. I would appreciate your getting the same from him for the purpose of examination, inasmuch as the findings were very full and complete, and set forth all these matters, as I have stated them to you.

Made No Payments
Thomas Walter Barrier either remained out of the state or in hiding until December 5, and paid nothing whatsoever for the support of either Madeline Barrier or the boy, and George Barrier, his brother, only after consultation with me and being by me advised, assisted in the support of Mrs. Barrier and the child, and boarded with them. Everything was proper, and I am sure that no misconduct was committed. The child is very intelligent and rather old for his years, and I have questioned him very carefully.

On December 5, according to George Barrier and Mrs. Barrier, Thomas Walter Barrier suddenly appeared with another brother, Russell Barrier, at the place of residence in Glendale of Mrs. Barrier, and then there made threats to kill George Barrier unless George Barrier left Glendale before 6 o'clock that evening. Thomas Walter Barrier also, according to Mrs. Barrier and George Barrier, demanded that Mrs. Barrier and the child immediately return to live with him. Mrs. Barrier had a nervous collapse and has been confined to her bed ever since, but for safety's sake she was moved elsewhere.

On the following day, December 6, Thomas Walter Barrier was arrested, as you have stated in your paper, upon two charges, carrying a concealed weapon and disturbing the peace. He was confined in jail, and was released on $200 cash bail on the evening of the 6th, and ordered to return for plea on December 7, at 10 o'clock a. m. On the morning of the 7th, he was arrested on a warrant issued in Glendale by Judge Lowe, upon the complaint of George Barrier, on charges of threats to kill. He was arraigned on all three charges, and entered a plea of guilty to the charge of carrying a concealed weapon, and entered pleas of not guilty to the other two charges. His bail was set at $1,000 cash or $2,000 property bond on the charge of threats to kill; $100 cash or $200 property bond on the charge of disturbing the peace; and he was fined $50 on the charge of carrying a concealed weapon. On the evening previous I had caused an execution to be issued out of the Superior Court, and the sheriff attached the $200 which was held as bail. The trial on the charges of disturbing the peace and threats to kill have been set for December 14, at 10 o'clock a. m. before Judge Lowe.

For Square Deal
Now, gentlemen, I have given you a complete history of these matters, but I have done so for the reasons stated in the first part of my letter, and I would like to have you carefully consider everything that I have said. It is, as I take it, the duty of the press to take it, truthfully, fully and fairly set forth the news. Besides this, we have a duty as gentlemen to protect any person who is in the unfortunate position occupied by Mrs. Barrier. Knowing the facts as well as I do, I am of the opinion that George Barrier has been a guardian angel to Mrs. Barrier. Very few brothers in law would have done what he has done, and if she has been placed in any compromising position (which I very strenuously deny), then the fault lies at the door of Thomas Walter Barrier, who absconded and left her on the mercy of the public with a small son to support, and with all of her relatives in Texas. Give Mrs. Barrier and George Barrier a square deal. I believe that you will.

Yours respectfully,
CHARLES ROBERT MCCARTY.

Sermon Excerpts And News Notes From Local Churches

MERCY IS THEME USED BY PASTOR

Rev. Harry Rasmus, Jr.,
Urges Congregation to Have Greater Faith

"The Quality of Mercy" was the subject of the sermon by Rev. Harry Rasmus, Jr., assistant pastor at the First Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning. His text was taken from the gospel of Mark, chapter 10, 47th verse: "Jesus thou Son of David, have mercy on me."

"This gospel narrative," said the speaker, "from which my text is taken, is one of the most interesting and touching of Christ's ministry. Blind Bartimeus sitting by the highway begging, and when he hears that Christ is passing by he raises his voice and utters the heartfelt cry, 'Jesus, Thou Son of David, have mercy on me.'"

"Mercy is that Divine attribute that has never been fathomed, a gem beyond comparison. In his agony this blind man cried out. And when the multitude would have silenced him he only cried the louder. His cry reached also the ear and heart of Jesus. He paused, commanded him to be brought and in tender compassion inquired his need, restored his sight. And the curiosity of the crowd was turned into praise."

God's Majesty
"In His Mercy can we not see God's Majesty? It towers over other virtues as a mountain peak. The administration of mercy sounds the depths of man's character. It is an attribute of God, Himself. As the spark from the anvil flies upward, so there is an inherent desire in man to rise, to aspire after Divine things. But only in the sunlight of God's mercy can we expand."

"Every day we face moral and physical perils, but God daily watches our safety. For, as the sky covers the earth, so does His mercy overshadow us. While the glory of God in the Old Testament is His righteousness it is His mercy in the New Testament. His mercy is given to those that implicitly trust Him."

"F. B. Meyer, that successful English clergyman, relates his experience as in a dream. He turned over the keys to his heart to the Master, but retained a small secret key. To his surprise the Master requested that one also, saying, 'all or none.' He yielded it, and the Master entered and cleansed the inner temple and filled it with the light of heaven."

Mercy to All
"His mercy is given to those who ask. Not only to Bartimeus, but to the woman caught in sin. To Peter, to Mary who afterwards anointed His feet. His mission was particularly to the outcasts, the prodigals. Not for the ninety and nine in the fold, but the one who had gone astray. His throne was love and His scepter mercy."

"Who can comprehend the height and breadth and depth of His mercy? Let us fly to Thy enfolding arms."

"Finally, Christ gives more than we ask. The blind man of the text asked for the restored sight of his eyes only. But Christ in His exceeding mercy and compassion, gave Him spiritual healing and holiness, for immediately he followed Jesus in the way. And this can be the experience of everyone asking and believing."

Livingston Preaches Two Sunday Sermons

"The Vision of an Enthusiast" was the subject of the sermon by Rev. J. C. Livingston at the morning service at Casa Verdugo Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cotton sang a duet, "Only Jesus." The choir rendered an anthem "Only Thee," with soprano solo part by Mrs. Robt. D. Jones.

Miss Margaret Taylor gave a five-minute talk on "Glimpses of the Field," covering missionary work and church extension in countries of northern Europe.

The subject chosen by the pastor for the sermon at the evening service was "The Gifts of Sleep." The choir sang, "Remember Now Thy Creator."

Hurt in Bus Crash

Mrs. Sarah J. Shaw of 734 East Thirty-second street, Los Angeles, was slightly injured Sunday night at 9:30 when a car driven by Tracy Shaw of the same address collided with a Pacific Electric bus driven by Earl R. Biggs, 257 South Broadway avenue, Los Angeles, at the corner of Central avenue and Myrtle streets, Glendale.

According to Biggs' report to the police, he was turning from Central to Myrtle, and was temporarily blinded by the glaring headlights of a car approaching from the opposite direction, or he could have avoided the collision. Mrs. Shaw was removed to a house nearby, where she received medical attention.

HERESY OF CAIN MENACES WORLD

Worship That Discounts Sin
Spreading Throughout
Church, Is Claim

The Cain and Abel story recorded in the 4th chapter of Genesis was explained by Keith L. Brooks, teacher of the Presbyterian Brotherhood Bible class, which met at the City Council rooms at 9:30 Sunday morning. Mr. Brooks pointed out that the sad history of the fall of man was followed with the chapter that sets forth the ravages of sin and the introduction of two kinds of religion that have ever since prevailed in the world. He stated that all still gather either with Cain, in his bloodless worship which discounts sin, or with Abel, who accepted God's revelation of the way of salvation.

Cain brought an offering of the fruit of the ground. Abel brought of the firstlings of his flock. The Lord had respect unto Abel and his offering, but rejected Cain and his offering. Wherein was the difference? Abel brought in faith. Cain would not recognize him as Redeemer. Cain would not take his place before God as a guilty sinner unable to save himself and needing one greater than himself to pay the penalty of his sins. The same difference exists among men today.

Abel, First Martyr
When his offering was rejected, Cain said, "This is because my spiritual condition and those who refuse God's way of salvation were often to this day get mad. Cain started an argument with his brother, ending by slaying Abel. The worship of God was the first occasion of difference among men. The first man who died in the world was a martyr for revealed religion. The first man taken to heaven was martyred and thus God secured to Himself the first fruits of the dead. "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord."

It is alarming to notice the rapid spread of the pleasing Cain worship in church. It is seen in the liberalism that begins by pronouncing all religions good and ends by making light of the Bible. There are still but two religions in the world—God's and man's. The world's most destructive heresy is still the belief that man can save himself by his own niceness and the excellence of his gifts to the church or charity.

FORGIVENESS IS KRINGLE'S THEME

Unlimited Pardon For Sins
Forms Paramount Duty
For Christians

Taking as his subject, "No Limit to Forgiving," based on the parable of the unmerciful debtor, Reverend Henry O. Kringle, of the Zion Lutheran congregation said in part yesterday morning:

"To him who hears this Gospel lesson of Matthew 18: 23-35; only when it is read in public service, it would seem that Christ teaches merely the duty of forgiving. The careful Bible student knows that he does more. The words proceed, 'I will forgive him that the words mean: he is to forgive his neighbor until seventy times seven. They had been addressed to Peter, who had been willing to forgive, yea, not only to forgive, but to forgive quite a number of times. Not that Peter was willing to forgive, nor that he was slow to forgive, but that he thought there ought to be a limit to his forgiving, called forth the parable of the unmerciful debtor."

Duty to Forgive
"Let us not for a moment lose sight of this. A Christian need not be taught that it is his duty to forgive. He knows it. His own heart demands it. God's Holy Spirit reminds him of it. The one thing he does not always remember, the one lesson he has to learn, at which he has to study all the days of his life is this: that his willingness to forgive must know no limit; or, in the words of Christ, that it is his duty to forgive not seven times, but seventy times seven."

"Why should there be no limit to our willingness to forgive? Because there is none to God's, and also because the slightest attempt to limit it would make us guilty of the blackest of sins."

"A believer in Christ knows that all his sins have been washed away by the holy precious blood of his merciful Savior Jesus Christ. In the Old Testament it was already stated: 'The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth, keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression, and sin.' Let us therefore forgive them their trespasses, as God forgives us our trespasses."

LORD'S PRAYER IS TOPIC OF SERMON

Occult Science Pastor Gives Keen Interpretation of Christ's Petition

Mrs. Mabel Moore, of the Occult Science of Christ church, lectured last night at 113 South Orange street on "The Lord's Prayer, or The Prayer of Knowledge." In the course of her talk, Mrs. Moore considered each phrase of this remarkable prayer in the light of the occult teachings of the Christ.

In regard to the first two verses she said: "Our Father which art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in Heaven." We know that the kingdom of Heaven is the kingdom of harmony, and it may exist in our minds and lives here on earth. Heaven does not mean a place of abode, but rather it is any place that we may be when our life is lived in tune with that Divine Self, or God. Therefore, when we repeat, 'Our Father, which art in Heaven, etc.' we are speaking to that everpresent spirit of God, who is within our own lives and the lives of all those about us. In repeating 'Hallowed be Thy name' we are saying, blessed be the name of God expressed in the lives of friends. Hallowed be the name of Divine love, expressed in wisdom and power, and understanding. I lay particular emphasis upon the latter portion of the first part, as it points out to us that God is not afar off; and it gives us a greater realization of the ever-present power, expressed in all life, seen or unseen."

Universe of Worlds
"Thy kingdom come" is the universe of worlds ruled in harmony. In the portion of the prayer, we are asking for this great blessing in our spiritual, mental and physical life; for we know that we are heirs to that kingdom, because we are part of God, its Creator. In regard to 'Thy will be done in earth, as it is in Heaven' the will of the Father is that the children of earth should be blessed with spiritual power, and an abundance of earthly goods."

"Give us this day, our daily bread" does not refer only to the provision of man's physical needs but to all things necessary for his advancement and development on all planes of being."

"Now we come to what is one of the most important requests in the entire prayer, 'Forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.' It means, that in our forgiving, we should be absolutely sure that we have forgiven unto forgiveness, for in Luke 6:38 we are told that as we measure out, it shall be measured to us again."

"And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For Thine is the kingdom, the power and the glory, for ever, Amen." The last, but not the least verse of this great prayer points out to us that on the path to Mastership there are many obstacles over which we must climb, and in its repetition we are asking for the strength which will enable us to overcome any temptation which we might meet on climb, and in its repetition we are also asking that these two great for us to bear be withheld from us until we have grown in strength, power and understanding. Evil, as I understand it, is ignorance. In view of this, we ask for knowledge that we may overcome all ignorance, or evil, on our path of life. To realize that 'the Kingdom, the power and the glory belong to God' is to realize that 'the Kingdom, the power and the glory' belong to man, inasmuch as he is part of God. In the realization of this truth, we are saying Amen."

CHURCH PREPARES FOR DEDICATION

Presbyterians to Meet at Impressive Ceremonies
in Own Building

The final service of the Glendale Presbyterian church in the Glendale theatre was held yesterday morning. The day had an other special significance in that it marked the twentieth anniversary of the calling to the pastorate of Rev. W. E. Edmonds. During that time he has seen the church grow, under his leadership, from a membership of 150 to 1200.

Rev. George L. Snively of Levistown, Ill., spoke at the morning service. He is assisting in the dedication of the new church at the corner of Harvard and Louise streets, plans for which were discussed at a meeting held at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The dedication services will be held December 15.

The complete program has not been arranged, but it will be a noteworthy occasion in Glendale religious circles and will crown the united efforts of the entire congregation under the able leadership of Rev. Edmonds.

It is planned to make it a day of general rejoicing and thanks giving.

GIRL SCOUTS IN BIG RALLY MEET

Demonstrations Given for Officers and Visitors
by Local Troops

Over a hundred Girl Scouts gathered at the high school auditorium Saturday night for the first scout rally under the new Girl Scout council of Glendale. A goodly number of friends of scouting were present to enjoy the program and offer their hearty support of the Girl Scout movement in this district.

Mrs. F. A. Beach, Girl Scout commissioner, acted as chairman of the meeting and noontime of the social hour that followed. At 8 o'clock Glendale's four troops and the visiting troop from La Crescenta marched into the auditorium with their colors, and Mrs. W. R. Wichert, secretary of the council, led the group in the scout salute, and in singing the Scout Spangled Banner. Mrs. Beach greeted the scouts and visitors and introduced Mrs. Owsley of the Pasadena Girl Scout council, who spoke a few words of congratulation upon the splendid showing that the Scouts of the city are already making. She also read a message from Mrs. Herbert Hoover, national president of the Girl Scout organization.

Offer Stunts
Mrs. Ralf Penland of Glendale gave three very pleasing vocal selections before the curtain was raised on Troop 1, which offered as its "stunt" of the evening a miniature scout camp and demonstrated the regular order of the day when they are in camp, even to the resuscitating of a drowned girl, the binding of a sprained ankle and the treatment of a snake bite. Troop 2 followed with a demonstration of Girl Scouts on a hike and what scouting can do for a girl. Troop 3 gave a camp fire scene, and Troop 4 demonstrated the ten Scout laws. Miss Mildred Merriville of La Crescenta gave a very charming solo dance.

Second class badges were presented to Ruth Berndt, Josephine Moore and Mary Jane Morgan of Troop 4, in addition to their merit badges they have won. Madeline Guglielmino and Virginia Baudino of Troop 4 also received merit badges from the Commissioner.

Three merit badges were presented to Catharine Bender of Troops 1, and first class badges, the highest mark to be achieved in scouting, were presented to Lina Borthick, Cecil Chase, Lucille Harris and Bertha Brown. R. E. Tucker helped to make the evening a success by leading the girls in a group of Girl Scout songs and at the close of the program the council greeted the guests informally and punch and wafers were served.

The new council is more than pleased with the success of the rally, and the troops went home with the feeling that they could go on with their work with new enthusiasm. Glendale's four troops are captioned as follows: Troop 1, Miss Gladys Sharpe;

Troop 2, Mrs. Harry A. Lockwood; Troop 3, Mrs. Mabel Horner; Troop 4, Miss Margaret Sharpe. Mrs. Jessie Hansen is captain of the La Crescenta troop.

The committee members in charge of the rally, to whom the credit for its success should be laid, were Mrs. Pierson J. Han-ning, chairman; Mrs. F. C. Ayars, Mrs. Harry A. Lockwood, Mrs. M. J. Brennan, Mrs. F. A. Beach, Mrs. W. R. Wichert and Mrs. W. E. Routt.

Y. M. C. A. FILLS AN URGENT NEED

Sponsored by Welfare Chest
Is Moral and Mental
Aid to Community

To hold the interest of the boys and young men of any American community in lines of recognized character-building and to keep them so healthy, mentally and morally, as well as physically, that they will scorn the insidious character-destroying influences that go hand in hand with the constructive forces of our life, is admitted by educators to be a fundamental problem.

The Young Men's Christian Association, one of the fourteen participating organizations of the Glendale Welfare Chest, is such an organization, according to W. E. Hewitt, president of the board of directors of the chest organization.

"No more worthy organization exists in the city, Mr. Hewitt states, and no more vital constructive work is being done by any organization in Glendale that is being done by the Y. M. C. A. The most important factor in the moral life of the community are: Rex C. Kelley, general secretary; David Black, chairman of the executive committee, which comprises in addition C. D. Lusby, treasurer; C. W. Ingledue, H. L. Finlay, W. F. Tower, J. S. Thompson, P. H. Arnold, T. E. Stevenson and T. E. McGuire.

"Boys are increasingly being called upon to assume positions of responsibility and leadership, as the ranks above grow thinner with the passage of the years. The development of communities and the happiness of homes depends largely upon the boys of today, for they will be the men of tomorrow.

"It is the aim of the Glendale Welfare Chest, now in the final phase of its drive for $40,000, to carry on charitable and welfare work in Glendale during 1924, to make the local Y. M. C. A. one of the principal beneficiaries. But this is only one of fourteen worthy organizations that must be supported, and that can not be adequately supported without a full Welfare Chest."

Headquarters of Gas
Heater Concern Here

Glendale has been selected as the distributing point for the Ever Brite Radiant heater by E. W. Pyle, western representative of the Ever Brite Stove company, Wichita, Kan.

Headquarters of this concern is located at 103 1/2 South Brand boulevard, while Mr. Pyle has established his residence at 131 North Orange avenue.

The Ever Brite heater is designed for gas or kerosene fuel, Mr. Pyle says, but is used largely in districts where natural gas is not available.

The local retail representative of this concern is the George J. Trisell agency at 223 South Brand boulevard.

Vienna Casts Its Spell Over Kirk; Memories of Fallen Hapsburgs Charm

Another letter written by W. B. Kirk from Innsbruck in the Austrian Tyrol is printed today for The Glendale Evening News readers. Mr. Kirk continues his description of Vienna, which he calls one of the finest cities in the world. He writes: "After our strenuous experience in Germany and travel south, we rested in Vienna all day Tuesday, expecting to stir about the city on Wednesday. Morning dawned cold and rainy. In the afternoon the daughter and I ventured out and took a sight-seeing bus over the city, even though it was drizzly and chill. It is one of the fine cities of the world and although hard hit by the war and readjustment of territory, it is fact 'coming back.' It is marvelous what a hold music, art and literature have on these people. Art stores, book stores, fancy goods stores in ladies' wear, toilet articles, cosmetics, etc., seem unlimited in number.

"The parliament buildings in Vienna are majestic and beautiful, the rath-haus, other public buildings, old palace, partially built new square, fine churches, theatres. Vienna is full of 'em. Although it was far out, our car took us finally to the summer palace of the emperors, a series of square and containing about 1400 rooms set in a park a mile long. Most of these rooms are now used by renters, but a full forty of them in the main building are still held intact for show purposes and we went through them.

Admires Big Stoves
"Their magnificence is hardly second to those in Potsdam. They are of the same general character. The thing about them which interested me most was the beautiful porcelain stoves, which heat them. Eight or ten feet tall, of most beautiful shapes and proportions, all different, mostly in pure white and gold trimming, they are objects of great beauty, harmonizing perfectly with all the rich decorations, furniture and works of art in the rooms.

"We afterward went over to the coach houses and saw about forty of the equipages of the emperors, back for 150 years, from the coronation coaches, one of which Napoleon rode to be crowned, and the magnificently adorned utility coaches, down to the little carriages of Emperor Mark's children. I assure you they were well worth seeing, one of the most interesting sights we have had. The harness, saddles and other paraphernalia were also shown.

"Our guide pointed out to us the former war offices, which are now used for useful commercial and educational purposes.

"We regretted the disagreeable weather we encountered in Vienna because it is a fine old city and we had always wanted to see it and enjoy something of its hospitality for a little season. We did enjoy our stay there anyway, but were kept indoors most of the time. The hotel was going and we needed the rest after being in Germany.

"It was a relief to be in a country with a stable currency, even if it does take 70,000 kronen to make a dollar. We cannot expect to be in every country at the very best season. We have had such remarkable weather for most of our trip that we can't complain that it isn't all good.

Steam Heat in Hotel
"So, on Friday, we came on to

WOMAN ATTORNEY ADDRESSES CLUB

Mrs. M. C. Lineman Speaks
on "Property Rights
For Women"

Firm conviction that California women and children should be represented in the state legislature by capable women, who would have their interests at heart and strive to bring about legislation to their advantage, was the concluding thought in the brilliant talk given Saturday to the Glendale College Women's club by Mab Copeland Lineman, Los Angeles attorney and chairman of legislation of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs, on "Property Rights for Women."

It was "University of Southern California Day" at the club, and Dr. Jessie A. Russell, as chairman of the program, secured Mrs. Lineman as a graduate of the U. S. C. law school and has a real message for thinking women.

Over fifty-five women attended the luncheon, held in the banquet hall, brightly decorated in the red and gold. U. S. C. colors. Under the direction of Miss Ruth Palmer showers of red and gold crepe paper streamers were hung from the wrought iron chandeliers. The university colors were also used in the long streamers of crepe paper running the full length of the tables. Yellow and gold crepe streamers were the floral decorations.

Decorations
On the honor table was a tall vase of yellow chrysanthemums and nearby stood the club mascot, "Co-Ed" dressed in a red and gold crepe paper costume.

The places were marked with small cards bearing the seal of the university in gold.

Mrs. Max Green was chairman of reception, and an innovation introduced was in identifying everyone present with a card bearing the name and institution represented.

Saturday each guest wore a yellow card with her name, and all members of the club wore a yellow flower pinned to the name card.

At the close of the dinner Mrs. A. L. Ferguson, club president, presided over a short business hour. One of the feature announcements was that the club now claims 101 members.

Mrs. D. E. Reichard, program chairman, outlined plans for the club's first birthday party the second Saturday afternoon in January. It will be a tea and members of the club will furnish the entertainment. At that time each member will contribute as many pennies as she is years old, for the scholarship fund.

Several amendments to the constitution were presented Saturday by Miss Ida D. Myers and voted upon by the club.

Upon the suggestion of Mrs. S. L. Gillan, the club considered the cutting down of trees in Glendale, and Mrs. Gillan, Mrs. J. S. Hayward and Mrs. Line were appointed to urge saving of trees whenever possible.

The club was urged to support the sewer bonds by Dr. Russell. Later Mrs. Ferguson presented Dr. Russell, who, as chairman of the program, introduced Mrs. Ralph Penland, a member of the club, who sang "Thank God for a Garden." She was accompanied by Mrs. Helen Sawyer.

Miss Mary Taylor, a student in the college of music at U. S. C., was present and entertained with an interesting group of waiters by Brahms.

The club was most fortunate in having Mrs. Lineman as a guest and speaker. She has a wide reputation in the legal profession and Saturday she gave a most comprehensive discussion of points of law of vital concern to women. She emphasized the importance of women understanding their legal rights and of sharing equal rights and responsibilities with men. Her talk included property, tenancy, joint tenancy, community property, wills, and legislation relating to these subjects.

FIRE TAKES NEW M'GROARTY HOME

Sage of Verdugo Hills Loses Residence in Flames as Housewarming Ends

By F. A. GRAHAM
OF THE EVENING NEWS STAFF.
TJUNGA, Dec. 10.—Less than twenty-four hours after more than a thousand friends and neighbors had participated in a happy housewarming party at the new home of John Steven McGroarty in Tjunga, all that remained of the house was a pile of ashes and the cement flooring of the front porch. Sunday morning at 6 o'clock fire was discovered burning through the roof. It is believed to have been caused by a defective flue from the huge fireplace. Most of the furniture and personal effects were saved, but the house is a total loss.

This fire is the second within a year that has destroyed the home of the poet of the green Verdugo hills. Early on the morning of the day after Christmas last year a fire, caused by a leaky kerosene pipes from a storage tank to the stove, destroyed the McGroarty home and practically the entire contents at the same place. The one burned Sunday had just been completed to replace the one burned last year.

Friends See New Home
Saturday afternoon more than a thousand friends journeyed from all points in Southern California to be present at the housewarming given by Mr. and Mrs. McGroarty, assisted by the Tjunga Women's club. All were enthusiastic in admiration of the beautifully appointed home. The reception was informal and many of Mr. McGroarty's beloved neighbors, "the congregation of the faithful," of whom he so often writes were there to enjoy his hospitality.

Saturday evening a fire was built in the great fireplace and a few intimate friends spent the evening dancing. It is believed that sparks from the fire were communicated to the roof timbers through defects in the fireplace chimney and smoldered all night before breaking through in the morning. When the fire was discovered practically the entire roof was ablaze. Lack of fire fighting apparatus and a forty-mile gale blowing through the valley rendered the task of saving the building hopeless. Volunteer firemen and neighbors concentrated their efforts on saving the household goods and preventing the fire from spreading to the hills back of the home.

Thousands of Friends
Visit Home on Saturday

The yellow cast took to the chaparral Saturday afternoon when John Steven McGroarty received 3000 "neighbors" from Southern California at the official housewarming of his new eighteen-room, $30,000 home in the green Verdugo hills west of Tjunga, but all the other members of the Millionaire Club of California were there—Socrates, the Newspaper Addict, the Old Postmaster, the Man Who Plays the Flute, and even the Little Lady of the Stone House in the Hollow.

They were all there, and many others, and they greeted their guest with a warm neighborly word of hand and mouth, partook of his tea and wafers, danced a stately minuet and enjoyed a musical program furnished by Wilber Herwig, Sammie Dickenson, Mrs. Mary Ena and other members of the Mission Play.

Shows Happiness
The host was beaming with happiness and his wife reflected his genial mood. It was for both of them the consummation of a dream. Set in a 38-acre grove of liveoaks, commanding a view of the Tjunga valley, sweeping and incomparable, their massive "cottage of content" stood finished, seeming there for all time, flower of the soil on which it is reared.

The day was chill and the wind came howling across the foothills, but inside a great log fire crackled and snapped, adding just the right atmosphere of cheer and neighborliness to the memorable occasion. The great rough-hewn beams of the living room smiled down on the gathering. Peace was in the home of "the poet of the green Verdugo hills."

"I wanted to get the friendly voices of my neighbors into these walls before I moved in," said John Steven McGroarty in a brief talk that came as an answer to the insistent demand for a speech.

M. V. Hartranft, who with Mrs. Hartranft, assisted the McGroarts to receive their many guests, then told the audience their poet's heart was too full for words, and at the conclusion of his remarks passed around hundreds of post-card photos of the famed McGroarty characters, including the absent yellow cat.

Woman Injured When
Automobiles Collide

Mrs. C. F. Albrecht of 1300 North Maryland avenue was slightly injured yesterday afternoon when the machine in which she was riding collided with another at the corner of Lexington drive and Glendale avenue.

It was reported that she suffered from body bruises and a general shaking up.

New Presbyterian Edifice, Church of Lighted Cross, Is Monument of Splendor

"The Church of the Lighted Cross" is synonymous with Glendale Presbyterian church, and the same lighted cross that has shone from the old church building on East Broadway will be installed on the main front gable of the new church at the corner of East Harvard and Louise streets.

This cross is just one of the features of the elaborate electrical work being carried out in the new building by the J. A. Newton Electric company, in charge of electric installations. An added attraction of the exterior lighting will be the flood lighting of the beautiful tower from all four sides, making it as plainly visible at night as it is during the day.

Church members and friends are particularly interested in the electrical work being done in the interior of the building for in the auditorium there is being installed the largest lighting fixture in Glendale.

The massive chandelier hangs from the center of the auditorium and weighs approximately one-half a ton. It is of wrought iron and measures approximately eight and a half feet in diameter and hangs more than eighteen feet from the ceiling to the bottom of the heavy ornate castings, that form the bottom terminal.

Lighting Device
It is being hung so that it can be raised and lowered for the purpose of installing new lamps and cleaning the reflectors. The problem of raising and lowering it from a forty foot ceiling has been entirely worked out by the Newton company. It is done by the use of a heavy iron windlass in the attic, which allows the fixture to drop suspended by a heavy iron cable. To make doubly sure of this weight being supported after it is raised, a heavy iron bar will be slipped through a large loop on the top of the stem across the main members of the trusses in the attic.

The light is supplied from eight 1,000 Watt Mazda lamps, which are set in special silver mirrored reflectors, made by the National X-Ray company. These reflectors throw the light against the beautiful ceiling and thus give that soft, even light, that is adapted to any public auditorium. The beauty of the art glass work in this fixture is brought out by the use of forty-four smaller Mazda lamps evenly distributed within the fixture.

In addition to this main, large fixture, there are two similar wrought iron fixtures of smaller dimensions, which are in themselves immense. They are hung above the large balcony in the auditorium.

The space under the balcony and in the beautiful auditorium at either side, are being illuminated by the totally indirect system of X-ray lighting, which is concealed in Gothic designed bowls of staff work.

RADIO IN TRINIDAD
A newspaper at Trinidad is the first in the West Indies to install a radio receiving set.

When a native of New Hebrides dies, he is buried in his dwelling, which is then deserted and another one built.

FOR CLOCK DEVICE
A device has been invented that can be attached to almost any clock to make it automatically display the names of the months and days of the week and the dates.

WRITES VIEWS ON SHULER MEETING

L. A. Smith Tells of Sunday Afternoon Session on Law Enforcement

Editor The Evening News:—Before an audience which packed every inch of seating space in Trinity Methodist church, Los Angeles, Rev. Bob Shuler, at the mass meeting advertised for Sunday afternoon, defended the position taken by himself and Rev. Gustav Briegleb in connection with the prosecution of the manager of the Junitan Grotto circus, and the restriction imposed upon the Motion Picture Directors' association ball, otherwise known as the Wampas ball, which was to have been held at the Biltmore hotel. Rev. Shuler gave a very frank, forcible and fearless statement of his attitude toward the question of law enforcement in Los Angeles, and the applause which he drew from his audience left no doubt of their entire sympathy with his views.

Rev. Shuler said he stood for the enforcement of the law upon all classes of citizens alike. There must be one law, he said, for the poor girl who gets $15 a week working in the laundry, and the movie star with thousands of dollars a week. The Grotto circus, he said, professed to be raising money for charity when in reality they were raising it for themselves. The representation that the Masonic fraternity sponsored the circus with its games of chance he declared to be utterly false. Alluding to what had been published in the newspapers, Rev. Shuler affirmed that he had been grossly misrepresented. "The moral side of a question," he said, "cannot get a look-in in the Los Angeles papers."

Adopt Resolution
A resolution was read and adopted at the close of the meeting petitioning the City Council to appoint a commission made up of representatives of leading business, social and religious organizations in Los Angeles, fifteen in number, this commission to be "authorized to make an extensive and comprehensive survey of moral conditions within our city and of the righteousness or unrighteousness of present moral laws, conducting public hearings and receiving such evidence as shall be voluntarily brought before them," and to "report their recommendations affecting moral legislation to the City Council, preparatory to any repeal or modification of existing ordinances that relate to the moral welfare of the community."

Rev. Shuler and the framers of this resolution evidently forgot the American doctrine that the legitimate province of civil government is to preserve the rights of the people and not to supervise their morals.

Open to Debate
To enforce morality, as such, in a community would be to enforce the moral law of Ten Commandments; and we would have legislation and court decisions defining and enforcing the law of God. Whether it is good policy for ministers of the gospel to head a crusade for law enforcement is also admittedly open to serious

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

TUBERCULOSIS—No. 1

There are three principal ways in which the tubercle bacilli (tuberculosis germs) gain access to the human body—

First—Through Dust: The sputum from careless or ignorant tubercular patients dries and passes into the air as dust, and this is inhaled. Probably the fewest cases are caused in this manner because the germs, most of them, are dead by the time they are dried enough to get into the dust.

However, fresh sputum can be stepped in and tracked into the house. Babies crawling on the floor, and putting things in their mouths from the floor, may be infected in this manner. Hence the importance of enforcing the Sanitary Expectoration Laws. We can all help in this enforcement if we will, by accosting careless spitters and calling their attention to it. That would soon do away with the vile habit.

Second—Through Droplet Infection: When people cough or sneeze or even talk, they throw out a fine spray of mucus from the mouth and nose. If the person coughing, sneezing or talking has open tuberculosis—that is, tuberculosis in which the tubercles have broken down—the tubercle bacilli are very apt to be thrown out.

Third—Through food, soiled hands, toys, etc., which have been handled by a patient with open tuberculosis.

Fourth—Through milk and milk products from cattle infected with tuberculosis.

As I told you last week in my articles on tuberculosis, there is one very important factor in contracting tuberculosis and other infectious diseases, and that is a lowered resistance. You know the factors that cause lowered resistance. They are: prolonged overwork, insufficient sleep and rest, unsanitary surroundings, occupations involving the inhalation of dust or other irritative particles, vicious personal habits and disorders of nutrition, especially underfeeding.

But we must not lose sight of this fact, that without any special lowering of the resistance, tuberculosis or any other infectious diseases may be contracted if the germs of these diseases are virulent enough and are taken into the body in large numbers. The statement that "germs are the effect and not the cause of infectious diseases" is pernicious, because it will make people suffer from and caring for infectious diseases, careless.

PICTORIAL REVIEW

VERY SMARTLY STYLED

Always a favorite with fashion is the straight-line frock of this model. It will be especially favored by women who can wear the new plaids and checks becomingly. The dress crosses and closes at the left side, a long, slender collar of plain material finishing the open front. Fancy buttons that correspond in tone with the darkest color of the plaid are conspicuous details of the decorative scheme. Medium size requires three yards 54-inch plaid, and three-quarters yard 36-inch plain material.

Pictorial Review Dress No. 1397. Sizes, 34 to 48 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

EFFECTIVELY SIMPLE FROCK

Ever so simple, yet piquant, is this frock, designed for development in the printed silks and other figured materials. The closing is at the left side, and the side-fronts, side-backs and kimono sleeves are cut in one, then adjusted on the front-closing lining. The two-piece skirt is attached at the left side. Because its lines are so straight and simple the model is equally becoming to stout and slender figures. Medium size requires five and one-quarter yards 36-inch material.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl still in my teens. I went with a fellow twelve years my senior. Whenever he took me out riding he always asked me to marry him just to see what I would say. He promised me a ring, but he never gave it to me. His mother forbade his seeing me. She said he should get someone his own age. He wouldn't take me to a show in town as he is ashamed. That is what someone told me. When his brother was married I didn't get an invitation to the wedding.

I really don't like this fellow because when he isn't up at my house I forget all about him, and when he does take me car riding I seem to hate him the more I see of him. He tells every girl he goes with that he is going to marry her, but he does that, thinking they will believe him and then he can get out of it later. Do you see why his mother should dislike me when I never did her any harm?

How can I tell this fellow that I don't want to see him any more? My mother likes him real well because he acts so nice when she is around. What would you advise me to do?

LONESOME ANNA.

You ought to tell your mother everything so that she will see further into the man's character than she does now. He makes a good impression with her, but if she knew of his meaningless proposals and the extent to which you have been left out of his social life she would probably dislike him as much as his mother disapproves of you.

Probably the man's mother does not know your side of the case. To her you seem to be a girl who is careless of your reputation since you go riding with her son as you do. It is really a very unwise thing for you to do. You can see that the man does not respect you or he would want to take you to the theatre, and if he loved you he would have wanted you at his brother's wedding. Do not consider anyone but yourself in this matter. The next time the man telephones you or calls to take you riding tell him that you will not go and do not care for any further attentions from him.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am invited to a fraternity party at a large university and I am not sure as to the proper thing to do. It is to be informal, and so will a light silk crepe dress do? I have shoes and hose to match and a fancy ornament for my hair.

I will be a stranger there and although I have met two of the fraternity men besides the one who is to escort me to the dance I feel that I will be watched carefully for defects as all of the fraternity men are anxious to see the girl "John" is going to marry.

As I enter, and the receiving committee is on hand, what should I do or say? Also, as I leave?

I should judge that your silk crepe dress, with shoes and hose to match and a hair ornament, would be just the thing to wear to the dance. Try not to place too much importance on your clothes. The fraternity men will naturally judge you by your general appearance, but they will be more interested in the girl "John" intends to marry than in the clothes she wears.

"John" will introduce you to the people in the receiving line. Acknowledge the introductions by repeating the names of the various people. Upon leaving, express your pleasure of the evening to one or two who have been in the receiving line and also tell "John" how much you have enjoyed the occasion. Be sure to be friendly to the chaperones. Unfortunately they are sadly neglected on many occasions of this day and age.

The woman who wants to reduce, or the woman who wants to improve her figure in any way (which includes about 99 out of every 100, I should think) has a golden opportunity now. For now, and for many months, she can get out of doors into clear, cold, invigorating air, she can burn up surplus fat and store up surplus energy by even so simple a thing as an hour's walk.

Winter is always better time than summer for this sort of thing, since summer heat often enervates before the effective amount of exercise has been taken. And winter offers an even greater variety of sports; if you live near a large city. You sacrifice no summer sport, since indoor swimming tanks are being built in almost every large town, indoor tennis courts, basketball courts, running tracks, are open now for women as well as men.

The Turkish bath that not only reduces superfluous flesh, but clears the skin and does away with rheumatic tendencies, is within reach of thousands of women now. And they are even putting outdoor tennis courts of a smooth green composition like cement, very porous so rain does not effect them, and easily cleared of snow, available for almost every kind of weather. Have you ever played a good hard game of tennis in real winter weather? I know of nothing better to brace you and make you feel fit and vigorous and glowing with good health.

Ski-ing is being taken up as a fashionable sport now, that's possible wherever one has a hill and the courage to put on the long skis. The brushed wool suits,

Dinner Stories

Sister Brown had been testifying at the weekly prayer meetings, of the waywardness of her daughter who would rather go to dances than to church, recites Judge. This had been going on for weeks in spite of the feeble protests of her husband. Finally at one of these prayer meetings she arose with new testimony. She concluded thus:

"And now that my daughter is going to be married, this burden has been lifted from my shoulders and placed on that of a man. I am so happy that if I had one more feather in my wings I would fly to heaven."

But in the general chorus of "Amen," no one heard the muttering of her husband, who grunted.

"O Lord, stick it in and let her fly!"

Efficient Housekeeping

APPLES—THE HOUSEKEEPER'S WINTER STANDBY

TOMORROW'S MENU
Breakfast: Stewed Dried Peaches, Cereal.
Coffee, Toast.
Luncheon: Fried Eggs and Bacon, Apple Slump, Rolls.
Dinner: Cocoa, Cup Custards, Cream of Pea Soup, Hamburg Steak, Baked Potatoes, Spinach, Coffee, Raisin Pie.

When the winter months come the housekeeper finds herself depending largely on apples for her desserts, in pies, in puddings, in fritters, raw in salads, and in apple sauce.

But, to my mind, the most delicious dish made from this fruit is that lunch or supper dish called "apple slump." This is a dish made famous by Louisa Alcott, the author. It is a well-known fact that Miss Alcott facetiously and affectionately called her girlhood home, in Concord, Mass., "Apple Slump," because her mother served this dish so often on the home table!

The Alcott family showed good judgment in their fondness for it. I cannot see why all families do not serve it at least once a week, for lunch or supper. Here is the 100-year-old recipe for it:

Apple Slump: Pare, wash and core one quart of apples; put them into a saucepan and add one cup of cold water. Bring to a boil, cover the pan and let cook 20 minutes. Then add one-half cup of brown sugar and one-half teaspoon of ground cinnamon.

While these apples are cooking, make a dumpling batter as follows: Sift together one cup of ordinary bread flour and one teaspoon of baking powder; add a pinch of salt and turn this flour into a mixing bowl. Work into it with the finger-tips, one teaspoon of butter or lard. Then add one-fourth cup of sweet milk (which will make a soft dough). Mix well, then drop this batter by spoonfuls onto the cooking apples (after the apples have cooked 20 minutes). Cover the saucepan tightly and let cook for ten minutes longer without lifting the lid.

You will find that the dumplings have a brown look as though made with whole wheat flour (although there is not a bit of whole wheat flour in them). This dark color is produced by the cinnamon and the color in the apples. Serve the cooked apples on a platter with the dumplings mixed into them. For a family of four, double this recipe. Quadruple it for six people. Serve plain or with hot milk.

Tomorrow: Helpful Letters from Readers.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. This is not philanthropy, just business. You are introduced to a cigarette today which sooner or later you're bound to try. This merely hastens that happy time. Tear off the coupon now.

We have found that 88% of the men who try Lucky Strike immediately adopt them. So to introduce you to Lucky Strike we can well afford to make this special offer of paying the 6c Government tax today ourselves.

No words can do justice to the Toasted Process in Lucky Strike. It takes us an extra 45 minutes to toast the flavor in, but it takes you only a moment to try the flavor out—the test of the toasting is the tasting.

Smoke this package tax free—you'll get acquainted with a cigarette so balanced in the blend, so mild in the flavor, so smooth in the smoking and so fragrant with the sealed-in virtues of the toasted process, that you'll change to this brand that never changes—and you'll never change again.

*To men who already smoke
Lucky Strike*

We want you, too, to get this tax free package, maybe to pass it on to a friend who doesn't yet know the pleasure you know.

Let him enjoy Lucky Strike as you do. Tell him to try one package and then see if he agrees with you and millions of others that there's no cigarette with such characteristic superiority.

Tell him why you prefer Lucky Strike. Tell him that the extra 45 minutes of toasting insures a flavor that never varies. He'll find, as you have, that this is a cigarette which can be continuously enjoyed. The flavor never varies.

Some one introduced you to your first Lucky Strike and you recall it as a lucky discovery. So pass the good word along. Give some friend the same opportunity. Tear out the coupon now.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

"Oh, dear! I wish I had something to make me happy," sighed Susie Littletail, the rabbit girl, one day.

"Why aren't you happy?" asked Uncle Wiggily, twinkling his pink nose, which was a sign that he felt very jolly.

"I'm not happy because I have nothing to play with," said Susie. The little rabbit girl had come to spend the day in the bunny gentleman's hollow stump bungalow, with Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane. Mrs. Littletail had gone downtown shopping at the five and ten-cent store to get Sammie a new suit of clothes. Not wanting to take Susie with her, Mrs. Littletail, had left the little rabbit girl with Uncle Wiggily.

"Why don't you play with some of your dolls, Susie?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "You brought some dolls from home with you, didn't you?"

"Oh, yes," answered Susie in a fretful voice, "but I'm tired of all my dolls! I want a new one! Couldn't you make me a doll, Uncle Wiggily? and then I wouldn't be unhappy any more!"

"Goodness gracious, sakes alive!" laughed the bunny gentleman. "I don't know how to make a doll. Perhaps Nurse Jane does, but I don't."

"What's that?" asked Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper. "Susie wants a doll, does she? Well, Susie, bring me a clothespin out of the laundry, and I'll make you a cute little doll."

"How can you make a doll out of a clothespin?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"I'll show you," answered Nurse Jane. And when Susie brought the clothespin, the muskrat lady took some pieces of cloth from her work basket. She wrapped a piece of calico around the lower part of the clothespin.

"That's the doll's skirt," said Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. Then she tied a bit of muslin around the upper part of the clothespin, with a red ribbon for a sash. "That's the doll's waist," said the muskrat lady.

"But where's her face?" asked the bunny gentleman. "I never saw a doll without a face," said Nurse Jane. "Let me take your fountain pen and I'll make her a face," said Uncle Wiggily. Then Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy made an ink nose, an ink mouth and ink black eyes on the wooden head of the clothespin.

"Oh, now it looks like a doll!" cried Susie in delight. "Wait until I put a sunbonnet on her and she will look more like one," said Nurse Jane. With a piece of red silk she made a bonnet for the clothespin doll, tying the bonnet under her chin with little streamers of blue ribbon.

"Oh, what a cute little doll!" laughed Susie when it was all finished. "Thank you, Nurse Jane. Now I am unhappy no longer."

Susie sat down to play with her doll while Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy did the work around the hollow stump bungalow and Uncle Wiggily sat down in his easy chair to go to sleep before setting out to look for an adventure.

After a while Susie's mother called for her, taking her home. Nurse Jane went to the store to get a quart of eggs and Uncle Wiggily was left to himself in the hollow stump bungalow.

"Ah, ha! Oh, hum!" yawned Uncle Wiggily, stretching himself after his sleep. "I think I'll go out and look for an adventure."

He arose from his chair, but, all of a sudden, there was a noise at the door. The rabbit gentleman thought it was Nurse Jane coming back with the pound of eggs, but, all of a sudden the head of the Fox was thrust into the room, and his growling voice said:

"You don't need to go out to look for an adventure! Your adventure is right here! I'm your adventure!" and the Fox looked at Uncle Wiggily's ears in a hungry fashion.

"Oh!" exclaimed the bunny. "You're here; are you?"

"Yes, and here I stay until I nibble you!" snapped the Fox.

Then, all of a sudden, Uncle Wiggily thought of a trick. He looked in Nurse Jane's work basket and saw some bits of calico, silk and muslin. He also saw a clothespin, for Susie had brought two in from the laundry.

"Have you a little fox girl at home, Mr. Fuzzy Fox?" asked the bunny.

"Yes, I have. But what of it?" snarled the Fox.

"Then I am going to make her a clothespin doll, such as Nurse Jane made for Susie," said Uncle

Wiggily. "Don't nibble my ears until I make a clothespin doll for your little fox girl. I know how, after watching Nurse Jane." So Uncle Wiggily put some silk, muslin and calico on the clothespin, and made an ink face with his fountain pen. "There is a doll for your little fox girl," said the bunny. "And now, I suppose, you will nibble my ears. Oh, dear!"

The Fox held out his paw for the clothespin doll. A queer look came over the face of the bad chap. Then he seemed to have a cold in his head and he snuffled and sneezed.

"Nibble your ears!" he cried to Uncle Wiggily. "Never! Do you think I'd nibble them after you have been so kind as to make a

Hope For Thrills At Wedding Of Daredevils

Ruth Roland and Cliff Durant

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10.—A wedding in an automobile speeding 100 miles an hour, or a ceremony while both are poised in a movie serial on the brink of a raging waterfall, has been suggested to Ruth Roland, serial queen, and Cliff Durant, millionaire auto racing driver, who are engaged to be married.

Friends of the couple will be terribly disappointed if these devotees of peril are content with a prosaic wedding performed in church or in Ruth Roland's lovely home. The air is full of suggestions about how the wedding should be managed so as to be as thrilling as the everyday exploits of the couple.

Miss Roland recently christened Durant's new $20,000 racing auto by being the first person to drive it around the speedway in Beverly Hills.

TODAY—Some Unique Pardon Pleas and Some Stereotyped Ones. By W. B. BROWN, For International News Service

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 10.—The State Board of Pardons for most of the cases that came before it is in reality a "Court of Last Appeal." Its monthly sessions attract much publicity but fewer spectators than any judicial body to which the public is admitted. It has the power of life and death, as well as of freedom; for the Governor of the State can act only in accord with its recommendations, and pleas for Presidential clemency are fast becoming the clearing house for clemency pleas of every description.

The ordinary pleas upon which pardon petitions are based are stereotyped enough. "Failing health," "sufficiently punished" and "hopes to become a useful member of society" are the stock phrases which never fail to appear in the scores of cases heard at each sitting.

Yet each session also produces some new or unusual pleas, which are advanced by counsel for the applicants as reasons for their release. At a recent session the Board was asked to pardon a man who since his imprisonment has gained fame as a poet; another man who has inherited $80,000 since his sentence, and a woman who brought disgrace to her husband, who now has promised to re-marry her if the Board will lift the prison bars.

Clarence A. Rea, graduate of a Western university and serving a ten to thirteen-year sentence on a charge of larceny and two more for serious crimes, has devoted all of his time in prison to the composition of poems, a number of which have been sold to magazines, under his designation at the Penitentiary, "B-266." Members of the Board—after hearing the pleas of counsel, who said his works compared favorably with those of Oscar Wilde—were presented with bound volumes of his poems.

The following was called to the attention of the board: Ours is a grimy bit of blue And very small, And sunbeams scarce venture to O'erstep the wall.

A bird that flutters swiftly by, A wind that passes with a sigh, A cloudlet sailing low and high, But that is all. O matins and O vesper bells, Toll slowly! A city of a thousand cells— A thousand individual bells!

Attorneys for Frederick Reuter, sentenced for larceny and receiving stolen goods, said if he were released it "would not be necessary for him to steal again, as he inherited $80,000 from his mother." Attorneys who opposed the pardon, however, argued it would be demoralizing for him to be released too soon after falling heir to so much money and that it would be a good lesson to him if he were compelled to serve out the remainder of his sentence.

Now we know why there is so much bad luck in the world. It is on account of the automobiles. It is almost impossible to go out in the street now and find a horse-shoe.

Commercial Life of Glendale Grows Consistently with Population

"Down through the ages," as the movies would say, men and women have been importuned to trade with the home merchant. The saying has become so hackneyed as to have lost its edge and the average person passes over it without a thought. Most people buy where they can do the best. That is human nature and to be expected. The merchant cannot, and usually does not, look for patronage unless he merits it.

The average merchant in the average city does deserve the support of the home people. If he is really a business man he is public spirited and participates in community affairs and is interested in community improvements.

In Glendale the business and professional people have been progressive. The growth of the city did not catch them napping. The business structure of the city has been built rapidly and consistently as the city has grown in population and importance. Glendale's shopping center has been acknowledged by financial experts to be entirely congruent with the size of the city, extraordinary as Glendale's development in other lines has been.

Glendale found her business and professional men and women anticipating every step of her advance until her business center is now the talk of the south.

There may be larger stores and more of them in some of the big cities of the land, but are there finer ones, fairer prices or better service to be had anywhere?

And so when Glendale Business asks your support that it may continue to march forward step by step with the city, you are being invited to help in bringing forth a Greater Glendale. Those on this page are asking your loyalty to the community and proving their own loyalty by helping to make Glendale a larger and a better city. You have given them your support in the past. They thank you and ask that your patronage continue. Their business and the business of the community are dependent on the home people for life and support.

surrounding the churchyard are monuments of all kinds, several in one crypt, wreaths of evergreen, etc., and in the yard itself are the oddest jumble of grave markers in granite, marble, iron and "what not," all showing signs of extreme age.

"We took the 'Funicular' to the top of the mountain, from which we had a magnificent view of city and country. A river runs through and another fine rustic hill, reminding one of Griffith park in miniature, is close by. The high mountains beyond are snow-covered. Although the town is only about as large as Glendale in population, it seems three times as large. How we hated to leave it so quickly! We didn't half see it, but the weather is such that we were compelled to hurry on and come here.

"This afternoon we drove over this town, which is in a fine scenic location. The feather or 'Chamois' whiskers stuck in the hats of the men and the little round bonnets on the women make the people picturesque. This is a beautifully located old town, but not so interesting as Salzburg, this time of year anyway. Tomorrow we go into Italy, just where we have not quite decided."

A travel letter from Italy will appear shortly in The Glendale Evening News.

Governor Denies He Won't Be Candidate

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 10.—

Governor Richardson has never said he would not be a candidate for re-election, according to a statement issued by the governor's secretary today. The statement reads:

"A fake interview was recently published by a newspaper politically opposed to the governor in San Francisco, that he would not be a candidate in the next gubernatorial election. This was untrue. What the governor really said was that he was not a candidate for any office and was ambitious only to give California an economical and business-like administration. This he has said repeatedly to those who are urging his name for vice president as a running mate with Calvin Coolidge. The governor cares nothing about his political future, is not building up a political machine and is not interested in playing politics."

TUJUNGA

PLANS WIDENING OF MONTE VISTA

Public Auto Camp Proposed; American Legion Hall Is Enlarged

Among the important business matters to come before the next regular meeting of the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce is the widening and improving of Monte Vista boulevard. The chamber meets Tuesday evening, December 11, at Legion hall. L. H. Fisher, newly elected president, will preside for the first time, succeeding Judge H. H. Breidt.

Plans for the establishment of an automobile camp ground for public use will also be discussed. Suggestions have been made for several locations, among them being the Garden of the Moon park and an acre and a half farther west on the highway. The Garden of the Moon park is centrally located near all the stores and post-office.

Standing committees for the coming year will be appointed and reports read from those now in effect.

Legion hall has been enlarged to furnish a meeting place for the Auxiliary, and a kitchen to be used for the socials and food sales held there by different women's organizations of Tujunga. Show-baths are also to be installed.

The Auxiliary has until the present time been meeting at the homes of members, and they have been looking forward to the new club room. Various sales have been held by the Auxiliary to provide money for the work. A toy sale was held two days last week and entertainments have been given to add to the fund.

Finished in Stone
The addition will be finished in stone in accordance with the general appearance of the building. W. B. Anderson is doing the stone work and Charles Keller has charge of the carpenter work. When this addition is completed the Auxiliary and members of Post 250 plan to improve the grounds with flowers and shrubs.

Mrs. Nellie Mathes Horne, portrait painter, recently arrived from Portsmouth, N. H., has joined the increasing colony of Verdugo hills artists. Mr. Horne purchased property in Tujunga with the expectation of making this their permanent home.

Among eastern papers to carry complimentary notices of Mrs. Horne's work are the Boston Post and the Globe. She painted her first portrait at the age of ten and has followed portrait painting as a profession since she was twenty years old. Among the well-known men whose portraits Mrs. Horne has painted are William Dean Howells, Secretary Long, A. P. Peabody, Edward Everett Hale and Dr. Horace Mann Willard.

Fire Hazard
Roland Percy, deputy county forester, has had charge of a crew of men who have been clearing brush that constituted a serious fire hazard from lots on North Sunset boulevard. Complaints were turned in to the forestry department regarding the menace.

New office quarters for Jeffries & Jeffries, building contractors, and the Golden State Homes Realty company have been fitted up in a small building at the corner of Michigan and Palm streets.

Experiments carried on by George Shaffer at his home on Walnut drive prove the Tujunga climate well suited to the athlet tree, which is being boosted by the Monte Vista Valley Improvement League for planting along the state highway from eastern Tujunga limits to the Tujunga wash west of Sunland. Mr. Shaffer received a shipment of the trees over a year ago, and they have thrived on exceptionally little water. One has reached a height of twelve feet and has been watered but once this year. It is the plan of the improvement league to have the trees planted to develop a scenic drive through the valley.

According to R. H. Bacon of the engineering department of Los Angeles, the new bridge across Pacoima wash, now under construction, will be ready for use about January 20.

Material Delayed
Owing to delay in securing material for the roofing of the Mission playhouse at San Gabriel, R. J. Smith, Tujunga contractor in charge of the work, has been forced to lay off some of his men until the first of the year, when he expects to have a crew of about 100 working on the building in order to complete it before July 1. According to a report that has not as yet been verified, the Southern California Gas company contemplates furnishing gas service to Tujunga, by way of Montrose and La Crescenta, early in the coming year. It is stated that the reports of meter installations by the Haines Canyon Water company, recently given, have interested the gas company officials. The water company's report showed more than one meter installed for the month of October, with corresponding business for other months.

COMMENT That's All

Studio for Bay City.
Film Funds on Coast.
Trade In Glendale.
Other Folks' Views.

By Gil A. Cowan

San Francisco announces that it will get the new Louis B. Mayer studio, as well as other new film concerns which are planning to build on the coast.

That is an answer to the Los Angeles police in closing the Biltmore ballroom at midnight to the motion picture people, while permitting a fraternal order to dance until after 1 o'clock at the Ambassador.

That is the answer to the dry agents in subjecting the film people to every sort of indignity at smart cafes where they love to go.

That is the answer to a vindictive minority that envies the person who dares think for himself.

Sorry, we cannot agree with professional reformers.

At the same time we have suggested that it was possible for the film industry to be improved by Los Angeles people financing their enterprises, rather than having it done in New York.

We have friends in the film business, and better people you cannot find. But we have personally noted that the evil influences are directly traceable to the salacious mindedness of flat dwellers in the eastern metropolis.

United Artists' productions, the Hal Roach comedies, and other western efforts at providing films for the public were clean, but when New York scenarists, managers and capitalists combine with exhibitors to lower the moral standard of the industry, it is an open defile to decency of broad minded Americans.

The merry Christmas season is seen on every hand. The stores and shops of Glendale are filled with people today and it looks as though a record amount of trade will be done.

Columns of The Glendale Evening News reflect the prosperity of the community at this time.

And we can do nothing more than commend the policy of "Trade in Glendale."

Always remember, Glendale FIRST.

Various editors of the state arise to remark as follows:

MONTROSE

MONTROSE PLANS PHONE EXCHANGE

Officials Promise Central Office, Would Serve La Crescenta

Evidence that the efforts of the Montrose Chamber of Commerce to secure a telephone exchange for Montrose will be rewarded was given at the regular December meeting when Fred Deal of the telephone company stated that an exchange will be located there to serve both Montrose and La Crescenta. The time has not been definitely given, as there is much construction work to be done on lines before the plan would be practicable.

Establishment of an exchange in Montrose will mean four-party service instead of from six to ten. The Chamber of Commerce was also assured that a single party toll station would soon be placed for public use.

A community sing was held in connection with the meeting, and added interest was given to the plan to organize community singing in the district.

Plan Fire Patrol
Theodore Belanger and C. A. Haskins have launched a plan to organize a fire patrol and secure a fire alarm siren for the business district of Montrose. A canvass of the business houses resulted in assurance of support in employing a night patrol. Mr. Belanger says that the siren may be obtained through the county forestry department at a reasonable price. He points out that the use of a siren would facilitate the assembling of volunteer fire fighters in time to reach the fire before it had gained uncontrollable proportions.

Fostering a neighborly spirit between Montrose and La Crescenta and Sparr Heights is to be the purpose of the newly organized Montecito Social club which meets in the Sparr Heights Community house. Dances, outings and various forms of entertainment will be given at least once a month, is the plan.

The following officers were elected: Theo. Belanger, president; Dr. Telefer, vice-president; Mr. Rettberg, secretary; W. C. Kaune, treasurer. An entertainment committee was appointed, consisting of A. F. Craft, C. J. Young, Mr. Palmer, T. O. Potts and Frank Harding. The committee on by-laws consists of Mr. Belanger, Mr. Walters and W. C. Kaune.

Mr. Belanger has offered a prize of $10 to the member bringing in the largest number of new members, and a second prize will be given by Mr. Walters.

New Club Rooms
The Montrose Athletic club has secured the hall above the Montrose Saddle Stables and Riding Academy, owned by J. R. Thorpe for club rooms. Mr. Thorpe offered the use of these quarters and told the club officials that he would be glad to enlarge the hall at any time the membership reached proportions requiring more room. The membership limit has already been over-subscribed and M. S. Hawley has announced that the list has been closed for the time being. This club will afford the men an opportunity to enjoy athletics, as the club room will be fully equipped for a gymnasium. There will be two rooms, one of which will be used as smoking, lounging and billiard room. It is also planned to install a radio receiving set.

Mr. McCormick, proprietor of the Montrose barber shop, has installed two new chairs in his shop on Montrose avenue. The shop has been enlarged and finished in white enamel.

Plans for services at the new Montrose Methodist church for the week include addresses by Dr. Davis on Monday evening, Dr. Kline on Tuesday evening, and a sermon by Dr. Collins Wednesday evening.

Systematic exercise, taken regularly and in moderation, is what keeps men fit past forty.

ELECTION CALLED FOR BOND ISSUE

Trustees Propose $120,000 For Additions to Two City Schools

A $120,000 school bond election has been called for December 27 by the school trustees, $100,000 being to provide additional grammar school facilities and $20,000 for additions to the high school. The election will be held in the Thomas A. Edison school, with H. W. Rouseup as inspector, and Mrs. Margaret Pomeroy and Mrs. Priscilla Griswold as judges.

If voted, the bonds will be issued in $1,000 denominations, bearing 5 per cent interest and running from one to twenty-five years. The survey committee recently approved an issue of $115,000 for school purposes. The trustees added another $5,000, feeling that the high school needed some facilities not taken into consideration when the recommendation was made.

Postmaster W. P. Coffman becomes president of the Burbank Kiwanis club for the coming year, succeeding Bert Lewis, as a result of the election held at the regular meeting of the club last Wednesday noon at the Elizabeth hotel.

Other officers elected are: District trustee—H. W. Lewis. First vice president—Charles B. Fischer.

Second vice president—Charles W. Anderson. Treasurer—C. A. Thompson. Sergeant at arms—B. E. Loper. Song leader—L. B. Davidson. Directors, one year—Ezra Christensen, J. C. Isbell, Russell B. Mullen.

Directors, two years—Frank Atwood, R. O. Church, E. J. Jackson, Frank Tillson.

The new officers will be installed with elaborate ceremonies on Wednesday, January 2, 1924. It was announced at the close of the meeting, and plans are under way to make this an even more gorgeous occasion than a year ago, which was considered a red letter day in the club's history.

Twice in twenty-four hours the frontage on Fourth street from Santa Anita to Providencia avenues, changed hands. Varney Brothers buying the property and selling it to R. T. Richardson during the progress of the same day. Mr. Richardson is understood to have invested large sums of money in Fourth street frontage within the last week and appears to contemplate an important development there.
